Missing Woman Has Been Found

Florence Elliott, Missing From Home, Found In East Liverpool

COMES HOME WITH MOTHER THIS MORNING

Florence Elliott, aged 21, former pupil nurse at the New Castle hospital, missing since March 5, is again at her home, having been located last night at a rooming house on Lincoln avenue, East Liverpool, O., by her mother, Mrs. Joseph T. Elliott of 627 Arlington avenue. Officer James Steiner of the city police force and Ed Whalen. She had been there for several weeks. She was employed in a store there. They returned here about 2 o'clock this morning. Miss Elliott, while returning home with her mother, plans to locate elsewhere.

About 9 o'clock last night, Officer James Steiner, acting police sergeant, received a long distance telephone call from East Liverpool, O., from a Miss Sylvia Jackson of 121 West Sixth street, that city, stating that she knew of the location of the missing local girl and would take

CLASS SELECTS REV. McCLURE

First Presbyterian Pastor Invited To Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon To Graduates

Announcement was made this morning that Rev. W. E. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, had been elected by the senior class of the New Castle high school as the choice of the class for baccalaureate speaker.

As related elsewhere in this issue, Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of Westminster college, who was selected by the class recently, was unable to accept the invitation. A meeting was held yesterday by the class at which the matter was considered, and the vote today shows that Rev. McClure has been invited to preach the baccalaureate.

The service will be held June 5.

Famine And Pestilence Threatening Thousands In Southern Flood

Mississippi River Flood Is Breaking All Records—Relief Arriving

Near Freezing Temperatures Add To Perils—55,000 Are Homeless

(International News Service)

Famine and pestilence threatened thousands of refugees today as the Mississippi river continued to break flood records in its surging flight to the gulf.

Near freezing temperatures through the upper valley added to the sufferings of the approximately 55,000 who have been driven from their homes, many of them with little more than the clothes on their backs.

Relief Arriving

Relief has begun to pour into the stricken regions, although the vast area affected and the regional shortage of boats has left many thousands virtually without shelter, food and adequate medical attention.

From one end of the valley to the other authorities were bending all their energies toward bolstering crumbling levees and adequately caring for the refugees.

Many of the northern tributaries of the Mississippi were reported slowly receding today and veteran rivermen believed the crest of the flood might hit Memphis, Tenn., by Saturday.

Towns and villages along the Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana banks of the river were preparing for record-breaking water stages.

Along this area it was feared the river might inundate whole counties left virtually untouched by former floods.

Six Special Trains En Route

Six special trains, carrying among other things, six fast motor boats, left St. Louis at midnight for Little Rock, Ark., to aid in rescue and relief work, the dispatches said. All of Little Rock was reported inundated.

New Madrid, Mo., is covered with water ranging in depth from five to 15 feet.

Heavy rains, accompanied by sharp drops in temperature, have rendered the condition of thousands pitiable. Shelter is scarce and food supplies are badly needed, according to the dispatches.

School Children In Mahoning Township Given Treatment

Immunization Treatment Against Diphtheria Being Given To 400

Nearly 400 children of Mahoning township are being treated today by the toxin-anti-toxin method of immunization against diphtheria. This is the first of a series of clinics which are being conducted throughout the county under the auspices of the recently organized Lawrence County Public Health association.

Dr. H. C. Harper, county medical director, was in charge and was assisted by Miss Myra Ackerman and Miss Agnes McLaughlin of the department of health, Miss Della Glenn of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society and Miss Maude E. Keyser of the Johnston Limestone company. Dr. Harper expressed much gratification at the splendid cooperation given by teachers and the boards of health.

Clinics have been arranged for next week in New Wilmington, Bessemer, Enon Valley and Wampum. Children from Big Beaver township will attend the Enon Valley clinic. New Castle and Ellwood City are also making extensive plans for immunization of their children against this dread disease.

"No community can be excused for tolerating a diphtheria mortality rate today," Dr. W. L. Campbell, president of the Lawrence County Public Health association, said this morning. "In toxin-anti-toxin we have a sure and safe preventative which should be made for every child."

Three Rockview Prisoners Escape

State Police And Bellefonte Authorities Search For Missing Men

(International News Service)

BELLEFONTE, Pa., April 22.—State police, local authorities and prison guards today spread a dragnet by radio and telephone for three men who escaped from Rockview penitentiary near here last night by cutting the wires of the stockade.

The men are Bert Miller, sentenced for larceny from Northumberland county; Gran Miller, sentenced for larceny from Lebanon county, and John H. Knapp, sentenced from Northumberland county for larceny.

C. C. Rhoades, assistant warden at Rockview, immediately sent out an alarm to nearby police, with descriptions of the men. Radio station in Harrisburg was also enlisted in the search, Rhoades said.

The men were discovered as they made their way to freedom, Rhoades said, but were untouched by a volley of shots fired by guards.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 22.—Hundreds of hungry flood refugees shivering from the cold and drenched from heavy rains, poured into Memphis all night from flooded districts of the St. Francis river basin.

More than 1,000 homeless sufferers were quartered at the tri-state fair grounds today and the stream of refugees continued to pour in from Arkansas and Mississippi.

Heavy Damage By Storm Reported In Pennsylvania

Central Pennsylvania County Towns Hard Hit By Severe Storm

PREDICT BIG DROP IN TEMPERATURE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 22.—Considerable property damage, mostly in farming sections, was reported throughout central Pennsylvania counties today following the first wind and hail storm of the year. Much electricity accompanied the storm.

The storm which swept across Delaware and this section of Pennsylvania reached the height of its violence in York, Adams and Dauphin counties.

Williamsport also reported some property damage from hail and wind.

Three firemen were slightly injured while fighting a burning barn at Columbia, Pa., which had been struck by lightning. Lightning damage was reported from other counties.

The wind, which swept rain and hail before it, crippled telephone and telegraph communications and lighting systems in some small boroughs, utilities companies reported.

Although slight rainfall continued in this section of the state today, the United States weather bureau here predicted that the skies would clear and the temperature would drop before night.

Hope To Complete Jury List Today In Snyder Trial

Seven Jurors Already Seated As Case Is Continued Today

MAY HOLD COURT ON SATURDAY

Undecided Whether Or Not Young Widow Will Take Witness Stand

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COURTHOUSE, LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., April 22.—With seven jurors chosen and the process of examination of talesmen speeded up by the judge, there was every indication today when the fifth day of the trial of Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray for the murder of the woman's husband opened, that the complete jury will be selected before court adjourns tonight.

If not, Justice Townsend Scudder has informed lawyers in the bitter three-cornered legal battle court will be held Saturday.

At any rate, the telling from the witness stand of the story of the killing of Albert Snyder, art editor of the magazine "Motor Boating" will begin Monday morning.

Attorneys for the blonde woman defendant have indicated in their questioning of talesmen that they intend to admit that Mrs. Snyder entered a murder conspiracy with Gray, her lover, but backed out before the crime was committed. Gray's lawyers indicated he will

Air Mail Pilot Killed In Crash At Topeka, Indiana

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, April 22.—Advices were received at the local airport early today telling of the death of John F. Malatzo, 35, Cleveland, air mail pilot on the Chicago-Cleveland route, as the result of his plane crashing to earth near Topeka, Indiana, about 12:30 this morning.

Malatzo, according to the report, left Chicago at 10:45 p. m. Thursday. At midnight he encountered a snow storm and made a forced landing. Taking off about 20 minutes later, he was apparently trying to reach Bryan, Ohio, when he crashed.

Malatzo was considered one of the best flyers on the Cleveland route. He had been in the air mail service about three years and previous to that time was in the army aviation service.

State Officials Here For Meeting Tonight; Speak In Cathedral

Hold everything. Don't plan for a thing tonight in the way of entertainment. Cancel that bridge engagement and save that argument with your mother-in-law for some off night, for this is the night of the corn borer mass meeting in the Scottish Rite Cathedral, the night when two members of the cabinet of Governor John S. Fisher and a number of other men of importance will be here.

Tonight at eight o'clock is the time, and the speakers will be State Treasurer Samuel Lewis, Secretary of Agriculture Charles G. Jordan, Dean M. S. McDowell of State College. Dr. Jordan and Dean McDowell have been holding similar meetings in other counties, but State Treasurer Lewis is coming from Harrisburg especially for the New Castle meeting.

Everybody Invited

Everybody in Lawrence county is invited and this carries no ifs, maybes or perhaps. The meeting is free, for its primary purpose is to acquaint the people of this county with the war on the corn borer, a war which is costing the federal

Cathedral Fund Subscribers Get Refund Of $18,000

Oversubscription First Payments Are Being Returned

TOTAL OF FUND OVER HALF MILLION

Fund Was Oversubscribed $203,000, Final Reports Show

Campaigns to raise money are common enough in New Castle, but campaigns of returning money subscriptions are most unusual, not to say bizarre. Now and then one crops out some place like some rara avis in a coal mine, and the Scottish Rite Cathedral Association is engaged in a campaign just now of giving back some $18,000, which represents the first payments on $203,000 in bonds.

The reason for the procedure is this: Some weeks ago the Cathedral engaged in a campaign to raise $297,000 as the last piece of indebtedness on the building. The crepe hangers sat around with the several chins parked on their shoes and mournfully croaked that it "just couldn't be done".

Boys Ran Wild

It was done, but in selling the bonds the boys ran wild. Money that had blue mold on it since the year of the Spanish-American War was dragged out and when the human adding machines had totaled up the result of the campaign it was found that not only had the $297,000 been sold, but that the subscription was oversold $203,000.

Since that time the directors have been hard pressed as to whose money to keep and whose to return. Edwin J. Kinter, auditor for the association, has been working with a corps of assistants since the drive tabulating the receipts and attempting to sort out the bonds that were apparently bought for investment and those bought just to help a good cause along.

After a lot of work they have finally sorted them out, and today checks are in the mail for the ones whose subscriptions have not been kept. The reason for the refund is that the state law sets a limit upon bonded indebtedness of a corporation, and $297,000 was the limit.

Letters of appreciation are being sent out with the money and certificates for those who have paid their subscriptions are obtainable at the Lawrence Savings & Trust Company.

New Schedule To Be Started Next Monday

Action Is Taken By Board At Special Meeting Thursday Night

HEAR PROTESTS AGAINST CHANGE

Board Members Hope For Different Arrangement By Another Year

Beginning Monday, April 25, and continuing until September 24, the New Castle schools will operate on daylight savings time. This action was decided upon Thursday evening when a special meeting was called by the board to pass upon the advisability of such a step. The vote was unanimous.

The schools will operate upon Daylight Savings time, not because of any desire to change schedules but simply to avoid confusion, now that the industries and the Better Business Bureau have definitely decided to change on Monday.

Two Protests Heard

Two protests against Daylight Savings were heard at the board meeting Monday night, the two being from Speer Marousis and Charles Kranz of the Peoples Amusement Corporation. They exhibited letters of protest and coupons and cards filled in by people of the city protesting against the adoption of Daylight Savings.

The board's reply to the statements of the two gentlemen was that the New Castle School Board did not wish to enter into any arguments as to the merits or demerits of the change in time, what they were trying to do was to satisfy themselves as to what course the

Southern Flood Situation Grows Worse Each Hour

Advices To Washington Say Refugees Camps Now Threatened

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Even refugee camps, holding thousands of persons driven from their homes by the raging floods of the lower Mississippi valley, are being reached by the high waters, and the situation is steadily becoming more acute, according to advices to national headquarters of the American Red Cross here today.

One dispatch said a refugee camp at Biassville, Ark., holding a thousand refugees in an area of a square mile, was threatened with inundation. The water was within a foot of the camp and still rising.

Arthur Mometer

The lady was fair, oh divinely so, and dressed in a purple garb, a picture of beauty and class, a lallypazazza, a darb. Her hair was like gold, fine spun and rich, her color the bloom of the rose, a jewel set in a human frame, from her shingle bob to her hose. And the car was a beauty in which she sat, oh one of the very best, but I gathered the lad who was with the maid, was more or less of a pest. For he charged that the lady fair was very slow. Victorian an most sedate, and he said, he did, that she had to call some lad when she had a date. His words were false, as I know full well, a base canard I would say, for I've called her myself and got turned down cold, like the weather, its forty today.

Find Error In Bill Creating New Judge

Some comment was occasioned today about the courthouse when an advance copy of act nine of the recent state legislature was received. This act is the one providing the additional law judge for Lawrence county, but there is a discrepancy in the time for the election, set in section two of the measure.

In this section it provides that a judge shall be elected to serve 10 years from the "first Monday in January, 1922". This should have read "1928".

However, the legislative intent in section four seems plain, which section authorizes the governor to appoint an additional law judge to serve until the next municipal election.

An opinion in the matter will likely be asked from the attorney general's department. The mistake is one which went through the legislature, the attorney general's department and the governor's office. The probabilities are that the act will be considered valid, in spite of the error, it is said.

Film Juvenile Cast In Tragic Role Now

RAY RAYMOND

DOROTHY MACKAYE

PAUL KELLY

Paul Kelly, film juvenile, has been indicted in Los Angeles for first degree murder following a grand jury investigation of the death of Ray Raymond, musical comedy star, who died after a beating admittedly administered by the screen player. Dorothy MacKaye, stage actress, Raymond's wife, admitted while a witness before the grand jury, that she had been with Kelly a short time before the beating. According to investigating officials, Kelly said he fought Raymond in Raymond's home at Hollywood and admitted it was over Miss MacKaye, whom he said he loved. Officials say he added he had "merely punched Raymond several times" and was "very much surprised he died".

Army Aid Games Show U. S. Progress In Military Flying

By MAURITZ A. HALLGREN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Progress being made in the development of an efficient military air force will be revealed in two sets of air games to be staged by the Army this spring.

Details of the first of these, the general maneuvers of virtually the entire Army Air Corps to be held in San Antonio, Texas, in May, have already been published. Following the San Antonio games machine gun and bombing competitions will be held at Langley Field, Virginia, for 15 days beginning June 5. Army air units from all sections of the country, as well as the Panama Canal zone, will be represented.

Eleven observation teams, six bombing teams, four pursuit teams and two attack teams will participate. Membership of these teams is being decided by a series of elimination contests now under way at the various stations.

In addition to these Army units it is hoped that Navy and Marine corps flying personnel will also take part. National Guard teams likewise have been invited to be present.

Winners of the several events in the competition will be awarded medals for distinguished gunnery. These are now being designed by the War department.

All planes that will take part in the matches, excepting those to come up from Panama, will be flown to Langley Field from their home stations. Two observation planes will come from each of the following posts: Crissy Field, Cal.; Fort Sam Houston, Tex.; Post Field, Okla.; Fort Riley, Kans.; Chanute Field, Ill.; Wright Field, Ohio; Mitchel Field, N. Y.; Bolling Field, D. C.; four pursuit planes from Selfridge Field, Mich., two attack planes from Fort Crockett, Texas, and a bombing plane from Phillips Field, Md.

Langley Field will be represented by three bombing teams and an observation team.

Major Lawrence Churchill, now stationed at Langley Field, will have general supervision of the air games.

schools should pursue so that the least inconvenience would be occasioned.

Some discussion was heard by the various members of the board. Some of them were personally opposed to Daylight Savings but felt that if the industries and business houses of the city were to operate under it, that it would be a burden upon the mothers of the school children to have them preparing meals at different hours.

The experience of last year was cited when the schools operated for three days on Eastern Standard time while the city at large was operating on Daylight Savings. Much confusion resulted and at the end of three days the board called a special meeting and put the schools on Daylight Savings.

To Confer With Industries

It was brought out that some inconvenience would result under the new time, but that this could not be avoided this year. In an effort to obviate such inconvenience next year it was suggested that the school board be represented at the conference suggested by the Better Business Bureau and that the matter of starting Daylight Savings with the close of schools next year considered. This will be done.

The step of the school board came only after much deliberation with every angle of the situation being considered. The members do not wish to work any hardship upon any of the families, but having the greatest good for the greatest number in mind, felt that it was the course of wisdom to adopt the new time beginning Monday.

With the action of the school board, Daylight Savings time for New Castle would seem to be provided in New Castle again this year. The industries have already posted notices to the effect that they will operate on it, business houses represented in the Better Business Bureau, banks, etc., have taken action, and the probabilities are that the balance of the city will follow the plan.

STATE OFFICIALS HERE FOR MEETING TONIGHT; SPEAK IN CATHEDRAL

government $10,000,000 and the state of Pennsylvania $1,000,000.

The campaign in Pennsylvania is under the direction of a Lawrence county man, Dr. Charles G. Jordan, Lawrence county's contribution to Governor Fisher's cabinet, and were it for no other reason, there should be a crowd in the Cathedral to welcome the Baron of Volant. This is his first official visit since he was sworn in as secretary of agriculture, and he deserves a warm welcome.

The fact that State Treasurer Samuel Lewis, one of the busiest men in Harrisburg, can find time to come to New Castle for this meeting is an added reason for a crowd. Mr. Lewis has many warm friends here and is a speaker of ability. He will probably not confine himself to the corn borer, but will branch out into other channels.

Dean McDowell is a man of unusual ability. As dean of the agricultural department of the Pennsylvania State College he has established himself as an authority in agricultural matters. His address will undoubtedly be well worth hearing. Miles Horst, editor of the National Stockman, and C. L. White, editor of the Pennsylvania Farmer, are accompanying the party and will speak briefly.

To reiterate, the meeting tonight should be attended by a full crowd. The extermination of the corn borer is vitally important to farmer and city man alike, and the Cathedral should be filled tonight.

There is no admission or contribution to be taken. The building will be open at 7:30 for inspection by those who have never seen the beautiful interior.

Mayor William H. Dunlap and Chief of Police Henry Dysart have promised ample police protection for cars and traffic protection when the meeting is over.

HOPE TO COMPLETE JURY LIST TODAY IN SNYDER TRIAL

throw the blame on the woman, saying she dominated him and forced him to beat her husband to death.

Important Witness

The state, is is said, will produce a witness who actually saw Gray hand Mrs. Snyder, two weeks before Snyder's death, the sash weight with which the husband was bludgeoned. The prosecution will seek to prove that the crime was long premeditated and deliberately carried out.

It has required the examination of 244 talesmen to produce the seven jurors. Mrs. Snyder has used up 17 of her 30 peremptory challenges, Gray 15 of his 30, and the state 12 of its 60. The jurors selected so far are:

William E. Young (foreman), press agent, married, 38.

Charles B. Meissner, landscape gardner, married, 45.

Harry Arnold, clerk, unmarried, 29.

Albert R. Kramer, plumber, married, 38.

John Connolly, engineer, married, 39.

All of the jurors except one are healthy looking individuals, seemingly capable of enduring a long trial. It is predicted that the trial will last three weeks, perhaps longer, if Mrs. Snyder takes the stand. She has indicated, however, that she will not.

Mrs. Snyder in Black

Court opened at 10:05. Mrs. Snyder, in black as usual, came into the courtroom as the judge's gavel was descending upon his desk. Gray followed quickly. He seemed cheerful and shook hands with his lawyers. Mrs. Snyder was a little paler than usual.

Twelve new talesmen were sworn in and the dreary questioning was begun again.

Justice Scudder's attitude toward the new paned of 150 summoned for questioning this morning was firm. When the first 12 talesmen were sworn in the judge, in his powerful voice, warned them that talesmen excused would not be relieved from jury duty the next term of court.

"All talesmen who are dismissed, for any reason", he said, "will report to the clerk in the next room. The clerk will note a change on date in the jury service of such talesman and he will return for duty the first Monday in May."

Leaning forward in his seat the judge took a hand in questioning the first batch of twelve.

"Have any of you conscientious scruples against capital punishment?" He asked them collectively. "If so you will please raise your hands."

Five hands went up. The judge looked annoyed.

"How long have you entertained such scruples?" he demanded.

One by one they said "for a long time," or "all my life," and the judge finally excused them.

The box was emptied a short time later without a juror being selected, and twelve more talesmen were sworn.

The rows of press seats were half deserted. Nearly all the expert talent, authors, psychologists, preachers and crimonologists, was conspicuously absent.

Gray's mother, Mrs. Margaret Gray, and her daughter and son-in-law, were in court today, sitting a short distance back of Mrs. Snyder.

Challenge followed excused in rapid order and again the jury box was emptied without a single juror having been chosen today.

Mother Leaves For Ohio Town

Mrs. Elliott was advised of the situation without delay and arriving at the police station, stated that she would take a chance of locating her daughter, in spite of many previous disappointments in following up clues.

Officer Steiner was detailed to make the trip with Mrs. Elliott and they were accompanied by Mr. Whalen. They left about 9 o'clock. On their arrival at East Liverpool some time before 11 o'clock, they went to the police station and accompanied by an officer of that city went to the home of Miss Jackson, whom they found at home as promised. She took them to the rooming place of Miss Elliott, whom they found.

She agreed to accompany them home and the return was made. She told of being unable to stand the talk about a story, which has since been refuted by the person responsible for its inception, and of deciding to leave.

She had been in West Virginia and East Liverpool since leaving. She told of sending a letter to her people from Rochester, Pa. Asked why she had gone there to send it, she stated that she did so in order that she might not be located. She had visited friends while there.

Miss Jackson, who discovered the missing local girl, stated that she had learned of the fact that she was wanted from a newspaper article and had attempted on the night previous to urge Miss Elliott to return home but without success, then called the police here.

Miss Elliott was informed that the woman starting the story had apologized and acknowledged that it was a mistake. It is said that in spite of this fact that she is inclined to make her home elsewhere.

DINNER STORIES

A great deal of talk at the settlement house had centered about the life of George Washington and how surprised he would be if he could come back today and see how the country has changed. The head worker, deciding to permit the immigrant women to stage a pageant of his life, told them to return the following week with ideas.

When the next meeting convened an enthusiastic little Italian woman announced immediately that she would like to tell them her plans for a pageant. "Here iss room," said she, with a dramatic sweep of the hand. "Here in room iss radio, here iss telephone, here is Victrola, here iss washing machine, here iss automobile, here iss airplane," and on she went, naming practically all the modern inventions, until it would have required a warehouse to house them. "Here iss couch," she continued, "George Wash is on couch. He is—what you call—'regimentals'. He sleep. Bime-bye, he wake—he rub he eyes—he sit up. Then he took 'round, slow like, 'By gosh, iss dees my United States?'"

Obliging.

In a restaurant a hat fell off a peg and dropped right on top of a piece of pie that was covered with whipped cream.

The owner of the hat called a waiter.

"Well," said the waiter, "what do you want, a new hat or another piece of pie?"

Modern Women's Hygiene
Ends worries of old ways
Discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse

SHEER gowns and gay frocks, business and social exactments under the most trying of hygienic handicaps are a comfort women of today enjoy.

This because old hygienic ways are being widely supplanted by a new way called Kotex.

Kotex discards as easily as tissue. Thus no laundry, no embarrassment of disposal.

It's 5 times as absorbent as ordinary cotton "pads." Thus you wear lightest frocks; dance, motor, go for hours without a moment's doubt.

Deodorizes, too; thus ending all fear of offense. 8 in 10 better class women now employ this way. Doctors advise it. Nurses widely urge it. Obtain at any store without embarrassment simply by saying "KOTEX."

Try today and you'll never again risk the uncertainty of old ways. Box of 12 costs only a few cents. Be sure you get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

SPECIAL NOTICE

All checks, money orders, drafts, communications, etc., should be addressed to The News Co., New Castle, Pa., and not to any individual.

MAKE A WILL

AMONG educational campaigns being conducted under various auspices is one giving every man and every woman a reminder of the duty of making a will and of appointing competent and responsible executors. The importance of this should be plain, yet thousands die yearly without leaving wills.

Under the circumstance, their property is disposed of according to state laws, which cannot undertake to deal with the families in accordance with individual requirements. Frequently injustice results, with much suffering entailed. This emphasizes the duty of making a will. Men and women should realize that only in this way can their estates be distributed as they would wish.

The chief trouble, however, is simply neglect. Some who realize their duty to have their wills drawn keep putting off the discharge of it to "another time." But a fatal accident or a sudden illness affecting their minds and rendering them mentally incompetent to the end may occur and, obviously, make it impossible to repair the neglect. While the normal expectation of those in their prime is to live "to three score and ten" or more, it is only common sense and common prudence to recognize the uncertainty of life.

Although the drawing of a will naturally takes into consideration the certainty of the coming of death some time to the testator, it should constantly be kept uppermost that the whole purpose of the instrument is the service of life; the care of the "dear ones" of the decedent who remain behind or the cause of humanity in general.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING

THAT there are sermons in stones and books in the running brooks has long been an article of literary faith, but only now is there complete realization of the truth of the statement that the archaeologist of a far-off tomorrow will seek his treasures in the advertisements of today.

It was Anatole France who said that advertisements are the modern historian's best materials. The catalog, newspaper ads, the magazine unrolls before one as luminously as a film on the screen the development of the times. The saga of the customs, clothes, implements and playthings of today will be faithfully depicted in these advertisements excavated some thousands of years hence.

The story of human progress during the past century and a half is unfolded to those who delve into the advertising mediums of the period. Style changes from the hoopskirt and bustle of the '70s to the knee-length skirt of today are shown. Development of the electrical age, the telephone, electric light, phonograph, player-piano and radio; progress of locomotion from the high-wheeled bicycle to the automobile; the safety razor and the farm tractor, all are shown in illustrations and detailed descriptions.

There is no better textbook of near-ancient history than the advertisements, but for the study of current history they are even more invaluable. Millions of women every day study the current history of fashion in newspaper advertisements, and millions of both sexes follow in the same place the contemporary development of the automobile, furniture, radio and every other marketable product.

CHILD HEALTH DAY

SUNDAY, May 1, will be a day of activities, for it will usher in National Music Week and be observed as National Child Health Day. This will be the fourth consecutive observance of the day first sponsored by the American Child Health Association, of which Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover is president.

Fifty thousand churches of all denominations are planning special sermons, lessons and exercises, and health departments, welfare organizations, clubs and individuals will unite to make the observance more general and a greater success than ever.

The observance of the day has given the National Congress of Parents and Teachers an inspiration for a campaign for physical examinations of pre-school children so that they may enter the first grade with every defect remedied and in as nearly perfect conditions as possible.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs has used the day as a stimulus for a careful survey of health activities all over the country, looking to more rounded programs of health with special reckoning of the forces which affect child health.

Hints and Dints

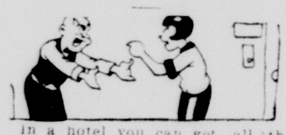
Sun sets tonight 6:46. Sun rises tomorrow 5:11.

Down at Steubenville, Ohio, a gasoline war has brought the price of fuel down to 15 cents. Dealers in Pennsylvania seemed to have learned a lesson from the Senatorial fights, that it doesn't pay to fight over anything and the price stays up.

Earl Carroll is reported to be getting better and is on a diet of orange juice. Just to say something, wouldn't it have been fine for Earl if he had stuck to orange juice instead of moon and other kinds of drinks.

The co-author of a sex play in New York City must serve 10 days in jail for putting the play on when it was ordered stopped. In New York it is the usual thing to defy the laws and the law enforcers and it will take jail sentences and very heavy fines to break up the practice. We never could sympathize with a law breaker who has to go to jail—we think that is where they belong.

This is the season of the year to repair the screen and limber up the lawn mowers. You are almost safe in believing there won't be any more coal to buy.



In a hotel you can get all the comforts of home except the comforting feeling that nobody can hear you quarrel.

The cave-man type is losing popularity. Co-eds in a big school voted almost unanimously in favor of the home-loving type of husband. Most of the girls admitted that it was not essential to happiness though very desirable. This is a sensible view to take and should mean sane and reasonable citizens in the future. Only a few can make big money, though anybody who is honest and industrious can get along. And it is the industrious people who accomplish great things. We admire the girls for their stand. Now to have them vote against the sheiks and drug store cowboys and everything will be jake.

A bachelor judge in London made the wise crack that in days that are gone it took two sheep to furnish clothes for one woman but that now one poor little silk worm can do the job and not have to work overtime. That is a judicial opinion on the subject.

Chauncey M. Depew, 93 years old and wise for his years says that Coolidge will be the Republican nominee next year and we are inclined to agree with him. And he states further that if Al Smith gets the Democratic nomination it will be all Coolidge. Depew puts a big if in front of Smith's nomination, and that if is the biggest little word in the English language.

Just about the time when the sun comes out strong for the first days of spring, the heavies get itchy, and there is one thing sure, there are few women afflicted that way.

Gasoline has been reduced one cent by one of the big companies, and that means a savings of millions to the auto owning public. We're strong for reductions of all kinds—reductions in prices; reductions in weight; reductions in armaments, etc.

Chicago has worked itself into a sweat over an anti-British wave that will likely result in the head of the school system losing his job. One thing British we do admire but it has never been adopted here, and that is the system of justice they have. When a man is guilty he is guilty and is treated accordingly. Chicago could do well to adopt that system.

Be careful when you get mad at the telephone and don't throw it out. A man who did so in the Pittsburgh district, had a fire in his home about two weeks after he did so, and living in the outskirts he had to run about a mile to give the fire alarm. If he had kept his telephone likely he would have his house and furniture yet.

It pays to be on the job always. An Ohio couple served a rich yachtsman so faithfully that he rewarded them with $500,000 in his will. Keep busy and see the reward you get.

Our idea of a safe way for many people to insure an automobile and its activities is to also insure it against anything the owner might do to it.

During the past week we have suffered much from the heat. It has been more like July weather than April weather in this vicinity for several days. California and Florida will get jealous of us sure.

We read an item telling about a local lady wanting a divorce because she was induced to marry her husband by misrepresentation. If all the women would go to law on that account our courts would have to have ten more judges than the one we have and the one we cannot agree on.

WHAT HIS HOURS INDICATED

A man went to the university town to visit his son, a first-year student. He called at the young fellow's lodging place and the landlady answered the doorbell.

"I believe William Jones rooms here. He is a student at the university and——"

"Student?" broke in the landlady. "Is young Mr. Jones a student? My goodness, I always understood he was a night watchman."

Before a man is married he worries about his heart.

After he is married he worries about his stomach.

If you love sentiment and romance, girls, stay single. The average husband contains about as much of both as a jellyfish.

WORRY

It is not work that kills men; it is worry. Work is healthful; you can hardly put more upon a man than he can bear. Worry is the rust upon the blade. It is not the revolution that destroys the machinery, but the friction. Fear secretes acides, but love and trust are sweet juices.--Henry Ward Beecher.

A Kansas man found a $20 fill imbedded in the hoof of a horse he was shoeing. The question now in the blacksmith's mind is whether the money belongs to himself, the horse, or the owner of the horse.

HO, HUM!

"Yes, beer is liquid bread," he'd sigh,
"But I find no fun;
For beer is so blame scarce that I Can't even get a bun."

Peaches Browning was arrested in Chicago for letting her automobile do 41 miles an hour. Peaches ought to know by this time that she is not cut out to go fast.

There are people who live in New Castle who just grab every dollar they can get hold of and never do a single thing to help things along. Those birds would have sod growing in front of their places if a few people here did not put their time and money and stand a lot of abuse besides in trying to make this the great city it should be—and will be some day, and it may be after some of these bozos are dead.

Tonight is the big night at the Scottish Rite Cathedral for the mass meeting of the country and city people to hear about the steps to be taken to get rid of the corn borer. Big men from Harrisburg will tell all of us. Be sure and be there. It's free for men and women and everybody.

A young woman from Edenburg went into a local music store yesterday and told the clerk she wanted "The Child Belongs to Me". Patient questioning brought out the fact that she really wanted "Yes, Sir, That's My Baby".

Since the report got out that the eating of lamb was good for reducing the beef of humans, it is almost impossible to buy a lamb chop in the local butcher shops. The farmer who raises the lambs, however, has not been able to get any more for his lambs on that account, however.

We hardly know what to think about the shamrocks on display in this office. Some Irish say it's clover and others with tears in their honest eyes say it's the real thing. As we said before, if it was cabbage we might say something intelligent about it. Come in and see it.

It is reported that traffic cops in Mexico are quick to shoot those who disobey the traffic laws in that country. We believe every word of that, as we thought once we were going to be shot ourselves when trying to take a picture of a jail house in Mexico. Shooting is the chief amusement of Mexicans.

America always has gotten into its wars in April. We only have a little over a week left in April this year, as far as we are concerned.

One of the things that will have to be established permanently in the automobile business some day is consistency. By that we mean when a man buys a car one day that has been driven many miles by a dealer, and wants to sell it the same day after not touching it he finds the depreciation something scandalous. Another thing. When a man buys one of the wonderful cars he hears so much about, and that is all of them, he don't want to be told he has a pile of junk after he has used the car six months or a year.

We heard a bird kicking about having to pay 50 cents for a fairly good meal. He has never been around much. There are places where 50 cents would not be considered a decent tip for serving that kind of a meal. We have seen meals not much better and the price looked like a telephone number.

Humans don't really need motion except when meeting a one-eyed car at night.

A Pittsburgh man died from the effects of having a rolling pin thrown by his wife striking him on the head. The wife said she threw part of her kitchen equipment at him as he was getting ready to give her her daily beating. It seems to us the law should be satisfied if the lady tells the truth and has no affinity waiting until the funeral is over.

New Mexico Wants Coolidge.
De Pinedo and Lufthansa.
Land, Sea and Air Natures.
Fearful Power.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

The Albuquerque Journal believes that President Coolidge will spend his summer vacation here in New Mexico. The president may find a state as beautiful as New Mexico, but he will find nothing more beautiful anywhere in this country or in the world.

If he wants to fish, mountain streams will supply him trout stories that Washington could hardly believe, even from a president.

The one difficulty is that with Mexico's glorious sky above him, he would find it hard to keep his eye on the cork. It is assured that, as a good Vermont American, the president fishes with cork and a worm.

* * *

Messrs. Pepperday and Pickrell, who edit and publish the Albuquerque Journal, carry daily a feature to interest other newspapers. Arthur T. Hannett, ex-governor of New Mexico, writes "New Mexico Day By Day," keeping the people in touch with their state and keeping the acting governor alert.

* * *

When President Coolidge met De Pinedo, the Italian, he met a flier. De Pinedo had flown from Europe to South America, in his Italian plane, along the great Amazon, over the jungles, then to the United States.

When a boy accidentally set fire to his plane, De Pinedo borrowed another, flew on to the Pacific ocean. Now he is back in Washington.

* * *

The president might label him "Exhibit A," take him to the army and navy departments and say, "Gentlemen, here you have proof that flying is really practical."

It is respectfully suggested that the president send a commission not interested in selling armor plate or battleships to investigate the German Lufthansa, that magnificent flying organization, sending its great passenger ships daily all over Europe. It has put Germany ahead of all nations in commercial flying and will soon surpass all that was ever done by the German steamship lines.

* * *

Let Lufthansa show the United States how to be powerful in the air and, eventually, make power pay dividends. Germany's flying ships could in a few hours, be transformed into terrible war engines.

The law of gravitation works for any kind of airship and will carry bombs to their destination from the air, merchant or fighting plane.

* * *

Mrs. Geoffrey Konta, young and learned New York jurist on this train bound for the Pacific, supplies an interesting quotation from Jean Paul Richter, who wrote it at the height of Napoleon's glory and during Germany's deepest humiliation:

"God has given to the French the land, to the English the sea, to the Germans the empire of the air."

Richter meant that Germany had nothing left only the air.

Little did he dream that one hundred years after his death in 1825 "empire of the air," by which Richter perhaps meant the empire of thought, would mean empire of land and sea also. Today Germany really has commercial empire of the air. And but for the powerful French fighting air fleet the French empire on land would be precarious.

* * *

As for Britain's former asset, "sea empire," that has become a liability. Nothing can protect her $50,000,000 superdreadnaughts, big guns and crews against a $10,000 flying machine, with a crew of two men, swifter than a hawk, carrying deadly TNT bombs.

England knows and is building airships. This country looks on, wonders, and does nothing.

The Italian De Pinedo and the German Lufthansa should convince us that flying is practical.

The retirement of Major General Enoch H. Crowder for the post of United States ambassador to Cuba will bring to a close a splendid record of efficient service, both military and diplomatic. Gen. Crowder left West Point in 1888, joined the cavalry arm of the service, and remained in the regular army work until 1895, when he was made major judge advocate by reason of his exceptional knowledge of military law. In the war with Spain he had a high command in the volunteer army, and made a creditable record in the Philippines. He was an observer for the United States army during the war between Russia and Japan, and in the World War he held the highly responsible post of provost marshal general. In 1921 he was sent to Cuba on a special mission and later was appointed ambassador.

THE NECK OF THE BOTTLE

Thomas A. Edison recently was interviewed upon his idea of what the cities of the future would be like.

The thing that will bring about most of the big changes in our cities, he said, will be attempts to solve the traffic problem.

The cities of today were built for horses and pedestrians.

Narrow streets and sidewalks took care of all the slow-moving traffic of the day.

In less than twenty-five years the automobile has changed the whole problem of city building.

Automobiles take more people at greater speed from place to place. Movement is accelerated in all directions. When there is a tie-up its effect spreads to great distances.

The first effort in solving the problem of caring for the new traffic conditions must be directed at "the neck of the bottle."

"The contents of a bottle," says Mr. Edison, "are so much, the capacity of that bottle's neck is so much. Any mathematician who is worth his salt can tell you how rapidly those contents can flow in or out."

In every large city there are certain arteries of traffic that lead to and from busy sections. The traffic pours into them and there most of the serious tie-ups occur.

Increasing the capacity of such arteries, or building others to take care of part of the traffic, is the first step.

In many cities a single bridge spanning a river is the neck of the bottle through which the traffic of the whole city has to pass. Thus the movement of traffic all over the city is slowed up because the neck of the bottle is not equal to the contents that must be poured out.

Two other ways in which traffic will influence the future cities are suggested by the inventor.

Traffic lights will be synchronized so large blocks of machines can go for considerable distances at a time without being stopped; and in time two kinds of streets will be recognized. There will be "express" streets and "accommodation" streets.

The former will take care of the fast traffic and the latter of the slow traffic.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

CHICAGO AND MEXICO.

It is a very popular pastime now to throw rocks at the city of Chicago, its government, its citizens, its bootleggers, and its bandits, with their machine guns. Many of those who are throwing the rocks still visit the city of Chicago, and whether surprised or not, they are not molested. The matter of fact is that anyone who wants to find trouble in the United States doesn't have to go very far to find it, either by way of highwaymen, or grafting office holders.

I recommend that the rock throwers take a trip to Mexico City. On April 12th the Laredo passenger train arrived at Mexico City somewhat behind schedule, having been held up by a band of sixty rebels the night before, some distance south of San Miguelallende, in the state of Guananuato, where a band of rebels held up and burned a passenger train three weeks previous. The passengers on the train tell the following story: Boulders had been piled on the track, which forced the train to halt between two steep embankments. The rebels fired from the embankments and caused more damage by hurling boulders and earth down on the train, their intention being to drive out the panick stricken passengers. Col. Ceferino Munoz took command of an escort of fifty men traveling in an armored car and sent them against the rebels. The rebels were forced to retreat after a fight of an hour and a half, the passengers crouching under seats meanwhile. A man and a woman in a second class coach were struck by bullets and a number of passengers were hit by rocks. The train made its way back to the station where it waited until the track was repaired. The car roofs were broken and every window smashed.

A number of Americans were riding in the Pullmans, as were several members of the Chamber of Deputies and Attorney Querido Moheno. Casualties of the rebels and Federal forces have not been reported.

It is true that in the past passengers daring to ride on trolley cars manned by non-Union workmen during a Carmen's strike, have had somewhat similar experience in the United States, but the Chicago bandits have not yet taken to openly interfering with interstate traffic.

EVERY TOWN MUST HAVE A STOP LIGHT

These smart city fellows have nothing on us,
We are small, but we're up to the minute.
A sign on the corner reads, "Stop, for the bus!"
And it will if you wish to get in it.

We've all the improvements. Our town is complete.
We're not very large, but we're thriving
And now we've installed o'er our busiest street
A stop light to regulate driving.

Sometimes it shows red, and sometimes it shows green,
And you stop when the red light is glowing
And then when above you the green light is seen
You may step on the gas and get going.

Perhaps we don't need such a costly device,
Our traffic's not that of the city.
But still we consider it well worth the price
For those red and green lights are so pretty.

AT THE CROSSROADS

Will Durant, as most of my readers doubtless know, wrote "The Story of Philosophy", which has been the best seller among non-fiction books in the United States for several months. There is a very interesting story in connection with the writing and publication of this remarkable book, by the way. We may get to that some other time.

In my office in the Times building I was discussing Will Durant with another man in the office.

"Not one person in ten ever heard of him", said this man.

I called the publisher of the book for the latest figures, and then quoted them at my insistent friend in the office.

"The book has sold 147,000 copies at five dollars a copy, up to this morning", I replied, thinking I had my opponent tied to a tree.

"I repeat", said the man, "that not one in ten has ever heard of Will Durant. Right here in Times Square, at the Crossroads of the World, I mean."

"Ridiculous!" I shouted. "Come on; we'll find out. And the loser buys the lunch!"

* * *

I bought the lunch.

The ten we stopped were all men, since we were a little conservative about taking risks of physical violence. All were well dressed. One carried a brief case. One carried manuscript under his left arm. The ages ranged from 20 to 60, I should estimate.

Five said that Will Durant makes motor cars. One said that Will Durant writes articles on physiology for a tabloid newspaper. The other four said simply that they never had heard of the man.

* * *

How many of these ten were New Yorkers and how many were visitors I could not even guess. You meet the world in Times Square. But they all spoke English, and none of them was illiterate.

What do you make of it? To me the experiment suggests some thoughts on literary fame. And it suggests further activities along the same line. I shall ask more questions about celebrities, in several localities. And I shall report the results to my readers.

Indiana Drops Registration For Elections

By EUGENE J. CADOU
International News Service Staff Correspondent

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 22—Hoosierdom stood solidly by the direct primary system as a method of nominating all candidates from local officers to United States president, in the stormy session of the legislature just passed, but threw overboard the laws which required registration of voters for the primary and the general elections, and repealed the absent voters' law.

Amidst the anguished cries of the senators from the north end of the state, in the "back yard" of Chicago, that gunmen would swarm in to control Indiana politics, the solons voted down the laws compelling citizen to establish his right to vote in a certain precinct.

When the lobbys favoring boss rule and the party system for nominations, attempted to repeal the primary, however, the freeborn Hoosiers rose wrathfully and overrode a sea of objections based on the allegation that the state of Klan scandals was paying too much for its attempts at political purity.

No Absentee Votes

The absentee voters' law, which saved the franchise for traveling salesmen and others who are not able to be on hand in their home precincts at balloting time, was discarded because of evidence submitted that it was being made a toy of corruption, to swing minor contests in the state. So it went because, as the speaker of the house of representatives said, "because its abuses were greater than its virtues." The measure was passed originally during the World war to enable service men to vote.

Indiana, however, emerged from the legislature without any of the ingenious "crank" legislation.

Every attempt to modify the Wright "bone-dry" law failed. Amendments were offered designed to change the search and seizure sections, and to change that portion which makes an empty liquor bottle prima facie evidence, but they were all "killed," either in committee or on the floor. The law remains as before, with the exception of one amendment offered by its sponsors increasing the penalties for drunken drivers.

Wright Act Retained

The Wright act still is considered as one of the most drastic of all state enforcement codes.

The welter of charges is connection with alleged political manipulations of the Klan at the assembly two years ago did not enter into the actions of this legislature.

Since 1925, D. C. Stephenson has been jailed for life for the murder of Miss Madge Oberholtzer, a coed, and the "invisible realm" over which he presided as Grand Dragon has slipped back from the political limelight.

Innocence

Innocent victim of the tragedy in the Los Angeles home of Ray Raymond, stage and screen comedian, is Valerie Raymond. Her father died of injuries after a fight with Paul Kelly, in which Kelly's alleged attentions to Mrs. Raymond figured, and Kelly is under indictment for murder.

Graduation Recital Event Of Thursday

Many guests, many lovely flowers, and an atmosphere of eager expectancy greeted Miss Dorothy Hilborn when she appeared Thursday evening, beautiful and radiant, ready to give evidence of the years of training received at the Patterson School of Music under the instruction of Professor Paul Browne Patterson.

Many splendid pianists have been graduated from the Patterson School of Music but it is doubtful if any have ever surpassed Miss Hilborn's playing of last evening. Her appreciation of the subtle and finer things was always in evidence, in her playing with unlimited power and brilliancy when the music required it.

Miss Hilborn's audience will long remember the pleading tones of the Nepravnik Nocturno, the rushing torrent of sounds in the Chopin preludes and Polonaise, the lilt of the Chopin Waltz, and finally the grandeur and nobility of the Rubenstein concerto, which closed the program.

William McCombs furnished two attractive songs and was well received.

Trinity Men's Club Meets On Thursday

The meeting of the Men's club of Trinity Episcopal church held last night in the guildroom of the church was well attended and proved of unusual interest. A short business session was held followed by a social session.

At the business session, a resolution was adopted recommending to the vestry that the honor roll system of posting the names of communicants of the church who have paid their pledges in full, be put in force, this to be done at the end of each quarter. It was suggested that this become effective of as July 1, 1928.

A letter was read by the rector from Bishop John C. Ward to the effect that Rev. Walworth Tyng of Chang-Sha, China is expected in this country soon. It was decided that an invitation be extended through the bishop to have Rev. Tyng attend a special meeting of the club on May 12.

The evening was brought to a close by the serving of refreshments.

Political Observers Believe Coolidge Will Be Candidate

Senator McNary May Be Runningmate In 1928 Campaign

Coolidge Silence Taken As Indication Of Attitude Of President

By GEORGE H. MANNING.
(Washington Correspondent of The News.)

WASHINGTON D. C. April 22.—Political Washinfton now feels sure that President Coolidge will permit his name to go before the next National Republican convention as a candidate to succeed himself, despite the fact that he has not made known his desires in that respect to even his closest friends.

Many things have occurred during the past week or two to make it absolutely safe to predict that the President will not take any step to withdraw his name from the list of possible contenders for the nomination next year but on the contrary will make it known to his supporters by his continued silence and failure to check the campaign for his renomination that he heartily approves their efforts in his behalf.

Ohio Senator Approves.

Senator Fess of Ohio is regarded as one of the foremost advocates of the renomination of Mr. Coolidge. The Ohio senator, after a recent conference at the White House gave out a carefully prepared statement in which he said that the people of the country were for the renomination of the President for a "second elective term." Senator Fess pointed out that the third term talk with reference to the present occupant of the White House was a mere bugaboo and had no real substance and that Mr. Coolidge's renomination would prove this to be the fact.

Confers With McNary.

Senator McNary of Oregon coauthor with Representtive Haugen of Iowa in framing the farm relief measure which vetoed by the president at the last session of congress has left Washington for his home after several conferences with the President. It is said that as a result of these meetings the Senator will make an attempt to frame a farm relief measure around which the elements that have fought so bitterly over this question in the past may be able to unite in the December session of congress.

Senator McNary has not pregressed far enough in his labors to indicate even in a general way along what lines he intends to proceed in drawing a compromise farm relief bill. He bears in mind the bitter opposition to the equalization fee voiced by the President and his advisers and the tenacty with which the farm bloc clung to that proposal. He is not at all sanguine that it will be practicable to effect a compromise that would win the endorsement of the administration as well as gain the support of the Senators and Representatives from the west and northwest. But the senator has left Washington filled with the ideas on farm relief given him by the President and he will do everything in his power to frame a measure that will meet the approval of the present occupant of the White House thus eliminating farm relief as an issue in the next presidential campaign.

McNary For Vice President.

In this connection the name of Senator McNary is being mentioned as a probable running mate for President Coolidge. He is regarded as a friend of the farmer and as the candidate for vice president would rally thousands of votes to the Republican standard bearers that might otherwise go to the Democratic column.

Even the critics of President Coolidge do not hold his continued silence respecting his attiude toward a third term against him. They point out that were he to climinate himself from the race at this stage he would lose the power he now holds over congress and which is bound to prove rather precarious at the next session.

Astute politicians who have considered the matter from every angle declare that the President will continue his policy of silence but will acquiesce in every movement that looks to his renomination. His boom is growing every day and Republican leaders are crowding into the bandwagon just as fast as they can. They will all tell you that Coolidge can have the nomination if he wants it and none of them will say at the time that he does not want it.

Coolidge Remains Silent.

It is believed in well informed political circles that the President will not do anything by word or action either to keep his name before the public as a candidate for another term or to remove himself from consideration. If he is renominated he can then go before the country and tell people that the "office sought the man" rather than came to him because of anything he did to secure recognition at the hands of the party after practically eight years as President.

There are some politicians who have visited Washington recently who claim that with a number of states having presidential primaries Mr. Coolidge will be forced to make his candidacy known some time early next year if he is to be considered for renomination. One or more such states require that a candidate must personally declare himself in order for his name to appear on the ballots of his party. It was said in this connection however that Coolidge delegates could be chosen without any declaration on the part of the President. Even in the few states which require a formal declaration it was pointed out that friends supporting the President's renomination could be presented as nominal candidates with a view of having the delegates elected in their behalf vote for Mr. Coolidge in the convention after one or two ballots had been cast.

Another significant fact which makes it generally certain that the President intends to stand for another term is the swing around the circle now being made by Chairman Butler of the Republican National committee. It is hardly likely that Mr. Butler would have made this trip of investigation and inspection if it had not been sanctioned by the President himself. The national chairman will get first hand information from Republican state chairmen and others conversant with the political situation in the various states visited as to conditions actually existing. At the same time he will be in position to tell just how the tide is running with respect to another nomination for the President. Republican national committeemen who have been questioned concerning the matter declare almost to a man that Mr. Coolidge will be renominated without a doubt. They do not take any stock in the third term cry and say that there is a general demand for Mr. Coolidge to remain at the head of the government for another four years after March 4 1929.

Two "Sheiks" Hold Up Latrobe Store At Point Of Guns

LATROBE, Pa., April 22.—Two young men, described as being dressed like "dance hall sheiks", held up and robbed Alex Zukor, a merchant, last night. The youths entered the store and asked for a bottle of pop. As Zukor went for the sofe drink each youth drew a revolver and ordered him to throw up his hands. Zukor complied and one robbed the cash register while the other held him at the point of a revolver. Zukor was unable to tell police how much money was stolen. As the robbers fled from the store, Zukor followed them seeking help, but as the men carried revolvers in their hands other men who were nearby refused to interfere.

Rheumatism can't be rubbed away

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried most everything. Went to Hot Springs and finally I decided to try S. S. S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I also had a breaking out on my hands for years that nothing would heal, but now this has disappeared, and I am sure that it was S. S. S. which removed the cause. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S. S. S. is the best." Carl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

Scouts And Girl Reserves Present An Exhibition

A demonstration of the work of Boy Scouts and Girl Reserves was given yesterday morning at the Benjamin Franklin junior high school assembly.

Miss Violet King had charge of the hour and Miss Ruth MacEwan assisted in the music. Three Boy Scouts, James Hiles, Robert Frazier and William Gromes, gave a demonstration of bandaging, signalling, making fire by friction and knot tying. Robert Frazier gave a short history of the Boy Scouts.

About 30 Girl Reserves dressed in their uniforms of white middies and the girl reserve blue ties sang several songs and repeated in concert the Girl Reserves' purpose, slogan and oath. The songs that they sang were "Follow the Gleam," "Sunlight is Gleaming" and "Girl Reserves Forever". Their demonstration ended with the salute to the Girl Scouts' flag.

A selection was given by Dorothy Sankey entitled "Selina Ford Hears the Overture of William Tell". Several songs were sang by the school. They were "I Know In Whom I Have Believed", "Little Brown Church" and "Old Black Joe".

Miss King announced that the Girl Reserves are planning a mothers and daughters banquet to be held in the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday evening, April 27, at 6:30.

Play Well Received In Mahoning Church

Epworth League Presents Entertainment; Other News Of Seventh Ward

Thursday evening a large audience was present in the Mahoning Methodist church basement to see the play "Eyes of Love" presented by the Epworth League of the church. Included in the audience was a group of people from near New Galilee, which is giving this same play.

The play was a comedy drama in three acts. The scene of the play was the library of the Judge Barry home. It was a mystery play from the beginning and the audience was kept in suspense until the last act. The play centered about Gayila, Judge Barry's adopted daughter. All characters took their parts to perfection. Carblina, a negro servant, was a scream and merriment was hilarious when she appeared on the stage.

In the last of the third act when the plot is all cleared up, the wedding of Gayila and Royal takes place. This scene was very beautiful. The gowns worn by the bride and the bridesmaids were in keeping with the scene, making the ending of the play a beautiful picture.

Much credit for the success of the play is due Mrs. M. C. Adams, the director. Selections by the Sabbath school orchestra, directed by Loy Gwin, preceded the play and entertained the audience between acts. This play will be repeated again this evening in the church basement at 8 o'clock. Characters were as follows:

Carblina, a negro servant—Harriet Truby.

Gayila, Judge Barry's adopted daughter—Rebecca Gwin.

Royal, Gayila's lover—Paul Wilson.

Burt—Retta's brother—Clarence Whittier.

Lora, Mrs. Barry's maid—Frances Turner.

Clark, the butler—Richard Wallace.

Judge Barry—Quincey Davey.

Mrs. Barry, judge's wife—Myrtle Butts.

Jim Rankin, an escaped convict—Billy Evans.

AT CLEVELAND.

Mrs. Ella Moore of North Cedar street and Mrs. A. G. Matthews of West Clayton street are visitors at Cleveland, O., today.

W. A. G. CLUB.

Mrs. W. R. Bollinger was hostess to the members of the W. A. G. club in her home on West Madison avenue Thursday evening. Nine members were present. Mrs. F. H. Byers was a special guest. A social time was enjoyed during the evening with fancy work, games and chat. Prizes were awarded Mrs. Byron Edwards and Mrs. Charles Hopper.

At a seasonable hour delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Bollinger assisted by her sister Mrs. Byers and daughter Jane Bollinger. Plans for the next meeting will be announced later.

Examiners Close Bridgeport, Ohio, Bank; Funds Short

(International News Service)

BRIDGEPORT, O., April 22.—With a reported shortage of $200,000 the Bridgeport Bank company today was closed with state bank examiners in charge, while William E. Thomas, cashier, was in custody at the county jail at St. Clairsville.

The bank was closed by order of State Superintendent of Banks E. H. Blair following a meeting of the board of directors held last night.

Thomas, while admitting his responsibility for the shortage, according to President J. C. Heinlein, declares the shortage was caused by carrying bad notes in the bank and not through embezzlement.

Next Big War One Of Insects, Hicks Asserts

Professor Of Colorado University Predicts All Dire Results

Bugs And Men To Fight For Domination Of World, His Belief

(International News Service)

BOULDER, Col., April 22.—The next war will be a battle with the insects, predicts Prof. Charles H. Hicks of the University of Colorado.

Poison gas, virulent disease germs, death rays and all the horrors depicted by the imaginative minds of scientists for use in the next conflict will be trained not on enemy nations, but on the common insect enemy, according to Prof. Hicks.

"There is a race for the dominance of the world between insects and men," declares Prof. Hicks, "and the outcome of the race is still in doubt".

Insects Civilized

Dr. Hicks points out the fact that in addition to outnumbering men by a staggering proportion, the insect world is far developed along "civilized" lines.

Most insects, particularly bees and ants, have a well developed social system that puts to shame the socialistic schemes of human thinkers.

Insects have remarkable diversity of physical form and life habits, and have well developed alliances with plant and animal life, according to Prof. Hicks.

"Insect life is closely and vitally connected with human well-being", says Dr. Hicks, "and they have always been subject to the closest scrutiny by men".

Power in Numbers

The power of the insect world is demonstrated by its numbers, Dr. Hicks indicates. "There are some 650,000 different kinds of insect life known to science", he says, "but this number would be raised to 6,000,000 if all the kinds that exist were to be known and described".

Dr. Hicks points to the number of insect "invasions" that have wrought havoc with agriculture, as one possibility of the victory of insects in their struggle with men. He mentions the grasshopper pests in the Great Lakes region, and the corn borer as well-known examples, to say nothing of the 17-year locusts.

Dr. W. C. Wallace Unable To Accept School Invitation

College President Unable To Deliver Baccalaureate For High School Class

Dr. W. C. Wallace, president of Westminster College, cannot accept the invitation of the senior class to give the baccalaureate sermon this year at the graduating exercises of the Senior high school, according to an announcement made Thursday.

At an election held several days ago, the class chose him to give this year's sermon, but owing to other arrangements this was made impossible.

Another election was held Thursday morning but the result is yet unknown.

The other possible speakers are as follows: Rev. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church; Rev. Weaver, pastor of the First M. E. church, and Rev. Maxwell, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church.

The result will probably be made known soon.

Wheelbarrow Cause Of Fatal Collapse

Weight Of Load Of Concrete Sends Three Men Hurtling From Roof

BETHLEHEM, Pa., April 22. — Three men were injured, one fatally when they fell about fifty feet while working on the addition to the Bethlehem Trust Company Building.

The injured are: Thomas Bush, 50, fractured left leg, fractured ribs and a punctured lung; Henry Hoffert(45, North Bethlehem, lacerations of body and face; William Souders, aged 49, lacerations of face and body and brush burns.

Souders and Hoffert fell on a springy wire cross section that lessened the shock of the fall and probably saved them from serious injury or death. Bush fell on a pile of concrete.

Seven men were working on the roof at the time of the accident. They were pouring concrete on the roof and were standing on a 2 by 6 cross section rib.

One of the men rolled a wheelbarrow full of concrete weighing about 300 pounds on the same piece of cross section on which the men were working. The added weight of the heavy barrow caused the platform to buckle.

Close fitting headwear called "shingle hats" have appeared in Paris.

Name Co-eds To Take Part In May Pole Dance

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 22.—A May pageant without a May Pole dance would leave one of the most important features in the discard, and for this reason, this pretty dance will be again included in the pageant to be presented at Westminster College, May 28.

Mrs. Mary C. McConagha, director, and her assistants, have taken care in selecting the participants in this dance. Miss Nancy Miller of Butler, will act as student director. A complete rehearsal of the dance is scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

The cast for the dance includes Ruth Blair of Hartstown, Willa Boyd of New Wilmington, Elizabeth Campbell of Kittanning, Dolly Cassidy of Burgettstown, Helen Davidson of Ingram, Dorothy Eccles of Pittsburgh, Margaret Glenn of Sharpsville, Aline Kemena of Ambridge, Janet Elias of Pittsburgh, Anna Thompson of Buena Vista, Margaret Munro of Oakmont, Louise Smith of Sharpsville, Mary Stuart of Freeport, Mary Thorpe of Belle Vernon, Evelyn Styche of Monongahela, Margaret Tucker of New Castle, Geraldine Turk of New Castle, Martha Wallace of Parnassus, Thelma Warner of New Castle, Grace Irons of Pittsburgh, Ruth McCormick of Parnassus, Elizabeth Anderson of New Wilmington, Elizabeth Ralston of Pittsburgh, Genevieve McCartney of Sharon, Rosamond Sowash of New Wilmington, Bessie Smith of Steubenville, Margaret Patterson of New Castle, Thelma Roberts of New Castle, Sara Patterson of New Castle, Mary Baird of West Middlesex, Bernice Gibson of Hydetown, and Eleanor Hunter of Sharpsburg.

Corry Goes After Reckless Drivers

CORRY, April 22.—Municipal authorities have announced that an immediate campaign will be opened by the police department to end a wave of reckless driving which has been the source of much complaint about the city during the past several weeks.

The city officials have hoped that no drastic steps would be necessary to check the operation of cars about the city this summer but the attempted honor system among drivers is failing to meet with the proper respect from the motorists.

Arrests and prosecution are planned by the city officials unless the reckless driving is brought to an immediate end.

Women Of Nicaragua Accept Bobbed Hair But Reject Lip Stick

(International News Service)

MANAGUA, Nic., April 22.—The women of Nicaragua have accepted bobbed hair from civilization but refused its lipstick.

The visitor to Managua is impressed by the sweet, natural expression of the girls and women encountered in the streets. Their hair is usually bobbed, and their attire, if they belong to the better class of society, is just as neat and up to date as that of their sisters in New York or Mexico City. But they lack the "sporty" appearance so noticeable of the women met on the Paseo de la Reforma or on Fifth avenue.

Closer inspection, discreetly conducted, reveals the fact that the lips of Nicaraguan women are unpainted, except in the rarest instances. Therefore they retain much of their sweetness and simplicity which, in the United States, can be found only on the mouths of babies too young to hold a lipstick in their tiny fingers.

Instinct To Kill Will Bring Future Wars Says Reformer

(International News Service)

BERLIN, April 22.—There will always be war, unless you succeed in destroying the human instinct to kill, and unless you encourage and develop instead the human instinct to preserve and to assist," says Dr. Helene Stoecker, one of the leading German women reformers, in an articles published in her periodical "The New Generation."

Sneering at "sham pacifists" all over the world, Dr. Stoecker holds that, with the exception of small, uninfluential groups, the nations of the world would start another war of the dimensions of the last world war, unhesitatingly, enthusiastically. "It is not because they have forgotten all about the indescribable sufferings they experienced during the last war, but because the killing instinct is still alive that they would do it all over again. And unless we find proper means to bring up people with other instincts, all talk about 'everlasting peace' and 'understanding of peoples' will remain talk and nothing else."

Canada Lets Autos Stay Ninety Days

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Under a reciprocal agreement with the United States, the Canadian Government has granted permission to automobilists to keep their machines in Canada for a maximum of 90 days without payment of duty, Assistant Trade Commissioner O. B. North, of Ottawa, has notified the commerce department.

Under existing regulations motor tourists may enter Canada for a period of 30 days. The new regulations will provide for two 30-day extensions in certain cases.

"To obtain the benefits of these extensions, however, the tourist must be a member of some automobile association in the United States, which is affiliated with a Canadian club in order that he may establish the fact that he is a bona fide tourist," North said.

At the end of the first 30-day period a month's extension will be granted under the contemplated plan. To obtain the extension the tourist need not return to the port of entry but may secure it from any customs office. There are numerous customs offices scattered throughout the dominion so it will not be difficult for tourists to secure renewals.

The arrangement is expected in Canada to encourage still further the entry of American tourists, who contribute materially to the annual trade of Canada.

Man Is Injured When Struck By Auto Thursday

Crossing Street Near West Side Station When Accident Occurs

N. Karam of New York City, is in the Shenango Valley hospital, under observation as a result of possible injuries that may have been sustained, when struck and knocked to the street at the west end of the West Washington street bridge over the Shenango river, by the car of George Nickerson of 515 North Cedar street. His only apparently injury, a bruise on the left leg, is not serious but owing to developments in his condition an X-Ray is to be taken today to fully determine the extent of his injuries.

According to the report made by Mr. Nickerson, he was driving west on West Washington street. A street car stopped at the end of the bridge to discharge a passenger, evidently Karam. Mr. Nickerson drove around the left side of the street car and Karam ran around in front of the street car and toward the Pennsylvania station, directly in front of the Nickerson automobile.

The automobile struck and knocked him to the pavement, the right front wheel of the automobile running over him as he lay in the street. Clifford O'Brien of South Front street, who was driving past at the time, picked up Mr. Karam and took him to the Shenango Valley hospital.

nti-Toxin Given To Many Children

ıler County Children Are Being Immunized Against Diphtheria

BUTLER, April 22.—Toxin anti-xin, a preventive of diphtheria, is administered to children of preschool age of Butler at the Community building today. From 10 o'clock this morning until four o'clock this afternoon the crops f physicians and nurses administering the toxin anti-toxin was kept usy treating the children, who ere taken to the Community building by their parents. These treatments, provided for by the state ealth department, are given without charge.

Each child who received the reatment was made happy by a retty blue or green balloon, which more than made up for the fleeting touch of pain felt when the medicine was administered.

The toxin anti-toxin is administered in three treatments. The first shot was given today. The second will be administered next Thursday at the Community building and the third will be given on the following Thursday, May 5. Dr. F. E. Coughlin, director of health in Butler and Venango counties, assisted by Miss Kate Brady and Miss Maude Williams, state nurses, were in charge today.

This morning Dr. Coughlin administered toxin anti-toxin treatment to 60 children at the Prospect school. These children included pupils of the Prospect, Mile Run, Pleasant Hill and Isle Hill schools, as well as some children of preschool age.

Tomorrow schick tests, a follow-up on the toxin antitoxin treatment, will be given at Mars and Evans City. The tests will be given at Evans City in the morning and at Mars in the afternoon, Dr. Coughlin announced today.

These treatments are a part of the statewide administration of the toxin anti-toxin as a preventive of diphtheria, which is known to medical science as one of the most dreaded childhood diseases.

Big Electric Signs Will Be Erected To Boost Program

Appearing before the City council in session at 10:00 a. m. this morning, Mr. A. W. Chilton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and John C. Shenk, one of the men assisting the chamber in its expansion program requested permission to erect two large electric signs to be used in the expansion movement.

Motion was made by Councilman D. O. Davies and seconded by L. G. Genkinger to grant a permit for the erection of the two signs, and was unanimously approved by the council and the mayor.

Mr. Shenk, in asking permission of the city stated that the signs were being furnished and installed by The Max Ludwig Co. of New Castle as a contribution on the part of their company to the aid of the expansion movement, and that the Ludwig company would not make any charge to the Chamber of Commerce for the use or installation of the signs.

The signs are of light steel construction and are fifty feet long and fifteen feet wide. One of the signs is to be erected on top of the city hall, and the other in the public square.

The various phases of the New Castle expansion movement will appear on the signs from day to day, and at night they are to be electrically illuminated so they will be visible for a great distance and in view of trains and autos approaching the city at night.

The designs to appear on them are now being prepared by The Max Ludwig company and will be very attractive. The community slogan for the first year of the movement will head the signs, as soon as this is finally determined.

The projects to be carried on, which are now being voted on by the citizens will also appear from time to time, so that the entire city will be familiar with the program and development of the chamber's activities and that strangers coming into the city will know that New Castle is wide awake and on the job for a greater city.

Harry Lauder is said to receive $50,000 for his appearance in a British moving picture film.

Sapiro Wins In $50,000 Suit At Regina, Canada

Canadian Publication Forced To Pay $50,000 For Attack On Sapiro

(International News Service)

WINNIPEG, Man., April 22.—Aaron Sapiro, plaintiff in the $1,000,000 libel suit against Henry Ford, today was the winner in a $50,000 libel action against a Regina, Sask., publication.

When Sapiro was in western Canada working on the formation of a Canadian wheat pool, the Regina newspaper attacked past performances of the so-called cooperative king.

Sapiro sued for $50,000. When the case came up before the court of Kings bench it was thrown out on technical terms. Sapiro carried the suit to the court of appeal, which ordered the case sent back to the lower court for trial on its merits.

Then a settlement was arranged out of court, the general terms of which were:

The publication must withdraw all charges, must pay all costs, and must make the agreement a part of the court records of the case. The newspaper further agreed to select a homeless boy within 90 days "who would not otherwise stand a chance for education" and pay all his expenses in the public schools and on through until he graduates in the Saskatchewan Provincial university.

Keeps a Secret

Because she wouldn't tell who came to the Montgomery County Humane Society, Dayton, O., saying that dogs owned by John G. Griggs were "mangy and neglected," Miss Irene Kehrer secretary of the organization passed a day in jail. When humane officials probed the report and found it erroneous, Griggs sued for $500 damages. Miss Kehrer was held in contempt of court when she refused to tell the source of her information during the trial.

She denied any reconciliation.

Will Organize This Evening

An organization of members of the 308th ammunition train is hoped to be formed at a meeting to be held this evening at the Veteran of Foreign Wars Home on Neshannock avenue.

Ivor M. Davis, who is one of the sponsors of the move, says that there are about 100 men in New Castle and vicinity who served in the train during the war and that a live organization ought to be started. He urges all members of the unit to endeavor to be at the meeting this evening.

Woman, as Warden, Brings "Mother-Touch" to Prison

Mrs. G. A. Waters, in charge of the Granite Reformatory at Granite, Okla., is the only woman warden in the United States. She believes that her ward need mothering more than anything else, and is mingling affection with prison discipline.

GRANITE, Okla. (U-I-N Special)—The only warden of her sex in the United States has brought a woman's touch inside the walls of Granite Reformatory.

The woman is Mrs. G. A. Waters, who succeeded her late husband in her present post.

When she took over the reformatory she discovered that eighty-five per cent of her charges came from broken homes. In light of the fact she saw her duty differently than most wardens see theirs.

She turned what was then a "jail house" into what is now a "prison home." Kindness is mingled with discipline and the Golden Rule has replaced the iron hand.

"But I do not let my sentiment interfere with my judgment," says Mrs. Waters. "I enforce a rigid dicipline, but it is based on one theory. It is this: when the wrongdoer sees his fault and acknowledges the justice of the punishment, he is punished."

Here is how Mrs. Waters brought about her "prison home" idea;

She organized athletic and dancing exhibitions.

She organized a library for her "boys" and gave them greater freedom in reading.

She organized quartets and an orchestra. Sunday afternoon "sings" were instituted.

She bettered the recreational equipment. The ten acres within the prison now have a baseball diamond, a football field, volley ball and horseshoe pitching courts.

Her greatest achievement is less tangible. That is the infiltration of her own personality into the prison system. She has a kind word for every boy she meets. She leads them in singing at church services. She keeps her evenings open so that her wards can bring their complaints to her. She receives them alone—without the usual guard. She talks to them as a friend, not as a jailer. Some have heard their first words of motherly counsel for years from her lips.

One boy, as he was led away after a talk with her, asked his guard:

"Say, when will she let me come to her again?"

Bar Bachelors In Style Shows

Single Men Must Not See Mannequins In Lingerie

ENNISKILLEN, Ireland, April 22—Bachelors in this town have been robbed of their favorite pastimes—that of attending mannequin parades.

There has been no explanation of the ruling. The news had been whispered about, however, that in view of the fact that married men are permitted to attend the latest fashions in chic lingerie are to be displayed as well as the newest street creations. Lingerie should not interest bachelors, aver the shopkeepers.

The mannequins most of whom are from Dublin and London are peeved at the decree of the storemanagers. If married men are allowed to see the parades declare the mannequins, single men should be equally honored.

"All men look alike to me" ventured Mrs. Vera Hutchins in charge of the mannequin employment agency of County Fermanagh, "and we contend that it is really taking a shingle of the roof of our livelihood as bachelors as well as men with life mates are interested in smart dress—and undress—as a great many of them have no intention of remaining bachelors always."

The married men are allowed to attend the shows—only on condition that their wives bring them.

Deaths among bachelors between the ages of 20 and 50 are double those of married men of the same age, according to statistics recently compiled.

Vassar Athletes Must Forego The Cigarette

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., April 22 Vassar college athletes must forego the cigarette. The athletic association has just ruled that "no girl who goes out for a major sport may smoke during that time from one week before the first game until the end of the season." "In the case of track" the ruling says "the prohibition covers the entire period of training."

Members of the athletic board explained that the rule is modeled on similiar ones in the men's colleges.

An automobile club in France has this year the motto: "Good roads, not roads of gold."

Bell Telephone Company Officials In Conference Here

Vice President And General Manager Heads Delegation Of Visitors

F. J. Chesterman, vice president and general manager of the Bell Telephone company, was in New Castle yesterday to preside at a conference with local heads regarding the telephone situation in and around New Castle. He was accompanied by C. E. Malley, commercial manager; C. R. Freehafer, traffic manager; J. R. MacGregor, chief engineer; G. B. Detz, assistant auditor of receipts; C. Montague, division manager; H. R. Clegg, division plant superintendent, and E. A. McDonough, division traffic superintendent.

Mr. Chesterman expressed himself as very well pleased with the conditions he found. He was particularly impressed with the bigh standard of telephone development in this territory and in further commenting on this subject he said: "It is very gratifying to observe that in the territory included in the New Castle exchange area, there is a development of approximately one telephone for every seven persons. This development indicates a decided growth in this district and compares very favorably with the development in other sections of the state." Mr. Chesterman remarked further that all indications point to a continuation of this substantial growth in all phases of telephone development in this territory.

Local arrangements for the conference which was held at the New Castle Field club were in the hands of T. J. Harper, district manager; H. E. Lampe, district superintendent of traffic, and C. A. Bolen, district superintendent of plant.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

SEES OPPORTUNITY

New Castle News,
Editor. Sir:-

I am in full accord with the actions of the Chamber of Commerce. I believe if the people will stand back of them and catch the spirit they will accomplish big things for the city's future. New Castle is all right. Nothing wrong: But the people need a schooling along progressive lines and should get away from the things of the past two decades. Especially from the things that have been bleeding and fooling the public. More than $3,000,000 have been mulched from the people of our city and county in the period of time mentioned. By wildcat stocks, such as gas, oil, cheap fraternal insurance and many other schemes. This of course shows a weakness in those who have made a poor investment. On the other hand it also shows their big heartedness. Their willingness to go forward if some one will show them the way and lead them in the right direction. This great bleeding act no doubht makes people feel sore and look pale, but these sore spots can all be healed and will be in a little time.

It is hoped by this time that the public has learned their lesson and is now ready to be educated in our own home town, in our own co-operative way. This great advertising plan which the Chamber of Commerce has in view is the safe and sound way to build our city. It is exactly the way most of our big cities in the west and the south have been pushed to the front and have made large and wealthy cities and communities. As the place grows the enthusiasm grows with it. If we ever get started, we will all catch the spirit and New Castle and Lawrence county will soon jump into the KING ROW. Newspaper advertising with tons of good literature mailed out properly will do more to bring business and manufacturers to this place than any other thing we may do. It takes less money this way than any other way. Never mind the people. They will come in faster than we can find places to put them and they will bring many thousands of dollars with them same as they did when they went to Portland, Ore., and the California cities, or the Jimtowns of Florida. If we all could go away to some of these great places for a period of several months or a year or two, we would come back to New Castle full of the go ahead spirit and greater unity to co-operate with You and Me and all the rest of us. We would all come back feeling that we had just stepped out of the graduating class. Had the above millions been spent in advertising our city and county as the Chamber of Commerce has mapped out, no doubt New Castle would be a city with from 150,000 to 175,000 in population. The building of a city of this size would require in improvements not less than $200,000,000. Wouldn't every journeyman, every bank, every store, every business in every line in our county and city benefit by this great movement. Street extensions, gas line extensions, electric line extensions, great freight houses will have to be built. Passenger stations will be built, larger and better public buildings will soon get under construction. Oh: If we will only go ahead, it will mean Money, MONEY, MONEY in circulation by the millions right here at home. This advertising plan will take time and money. Because the people will have to be educated to it. It is the biggest broad minded proposition that has ever been put before the people of New Castle and one that I have always favored. Of course we will have the old time pessimists to contend with who are always ready to beat and hammer every new thought or idea that comes up. But determination and will power will knock them out if gone after properly. Much can be said along the lines of advancement for New Castle when we get started. Let us start today.

Let us seize the opportunity and be alert with vision. Let us be men with faith in this great works. Let us stand ever ready at the door of opportunity. Let us possess ourselves of the proper qualifications which are required as a leading part in a greater measure to put 50,000 more people into New Castle the next 10 years.

Let us cultivate a greater ambitious spirit. Let us show that greater union of power and ability. That larger capacity and skill that puts things over. Let us be Op-por-tunists.

Yours Respectfully,
GEO. B. HART.

Koppel Schools To Give Operetta

Seventh and eighth grades of Koppel borough schools are planning to give the operetta, "Miss Cherry Blossom", in the auditorium of the Methodist Episcopal church on Thursday evening, April 28, at 8:15 o'clock.

The plot of the operetta is that Miss Evelyn Barnes, an American girl born in Japan, loses both her parents by fever and is brought up as a Japanese maiden.

Her father's secretary uses her property for his own ends. When Evelyn, who is known as Cherry Blossom, is about 18 years of age this secretary returns to Japan on his yacht with a party of American friends. One of them, John Smith, falls in love with Cherry Blossom and wishes to marry her, but Kokemo, who has brought her up as his own daughter, wants her to marry Togo, a rich politician. The action of the piece centers around Jack's efforts to outwit Togo and Kokemo. Eventually Cherry Blossom learns her true identity, comes into her own property, marries Jack and all ends happily.

The following cast with three choruses will render the production:

Cherry Blossom—Esther Shaner.
Kokemo—Carmen Martini.
John Smith—Robert Campbell.
Henry Jones—Frank Massa.
Horace Worthington — Masino Barbari.
James Young—Albert Majer.
Jessica Vanderpool — Rebekah Blair.
Togo—Mike James.

Final Prayer Book Changes Announced

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 22.—Many minor, but interesting changes have been made in the final form of the permissive composite prayer book of the Church of England, which has just been authorized for use. Among these are:

A ruling that the Reserved Sacrament—consecrated bread and wine intended for the sick—shall be kept in a locked safe in the wall of the church.

A new prayer for the British empire.

A ruling that the godparents of a child must be people who have been baptised.

The restoration of four saints to the calendar—St. Denys, St. Nicholas (Santa Claus), St. Crispin and St. Catherine of Alexandria.

There is nothing in the final draft which any clergyman is bound to use. It will be for each to decide whether he shall use the old or the new book.

In the preface, the bishops state: "Since 1662 there has been change almost beyond belief in the facts and modes of English life."

There is little alteration in the marriage service. Instead of saying "All my worldly goods I with thee share," the bridegroom says, "All my worldly goods with thee I share."

Injuries Cause Death Of Man Struck By Auto

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., April 22.—John Dizig aged 47 years of the Darlington road near Cannelton, died yesterday afternoon at the Providence hospital as the result of injuries received when he was struck by an automobile on the night of March 9. It is reported that the man who was an employe of the Darlington Brick Co., was pushing a wheelbarrow along the highway when he was struck by a machine alleged to have been driven by Cecil Guy of Negley, O. The injured man was immediately rushed to the hospital where examination revealed a fracture of both jaws, numerous teeth knocked out a laceration of the chin and injury to both his legs. At first his condition was not regarded as serious but complications developed which caused the man's death.

Senator Reed Is Slowly Improving Doctors Assert

(International News Service)

DETROIT, April 22.—Senator James A. Reed, who was stricken with acute indigestion last Monday, was "getting along very nicely" today at the Henry Ford hospital, where he has been a patient for four days.

Seen in his sick room, Reed appeared pale and weak, but declared he wasn't feeling sick. His physicians attributed his present illness to inflammation of the gall bladder, resulting from the attack of indigestion.

"I rest very nicely while lying here in bed, but my insides pain me as soon as I try to walk around the room", Reed told international News Service. "I'm not in any danger, but I think I'll stay here several days and then I'll be all right".

The senator's friends denied rumors that he might be operated upon while in the hospital.

Cost Of Airships To Drop 90 Per Cent With New Invention

By CHARLES A. SMITH,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

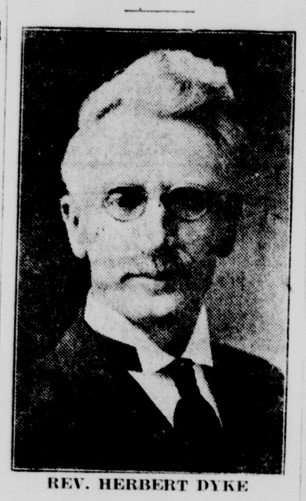
LONDON, April 22. — Nine-tenths of the costs of airship construction are eliminated, it is claimed, with a new type of airship, based on revolutionary lighter-than-air principles, which is now being built in England by a small private company with the approval of experts of the British Air Ministry.

The development of a new design for the internal rigging, without loss of strength or rigidity, has made cheapness of construction possible. While it is not claimed that the ship now being built vies in size or weight lifting capacity with the two luxury ships now under construction for the British government, the proportionate initial cost is said to be astonishing.

The ship is the invention of three men. It will carry twenty men, including crew and navigator, in addition to its load of fuel, and is designed to be easily manageable in all weathers. Motive power to four air screws, is provided by four seventy-five horsepower Cirrus engines. The speed will be approximately 70 miles per hour.

Rev. Herbert Dyke Accepts Pastorate

Noted Bible Teacher From The Vermilion, O., Bible School To Preach Here



REV. HERBERT DYKE

Rev. Herbert Dyke of Vermilion, Ohio, has accepted the call to the pastorate of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Gospel Tabernacle on Pearson street, that was extended to him by the congregation a few weeks ago, it was learned today.

The local congregation is very fortunate in being able to secure such an able man for the pulpit. He is noted in the Alliance work as an able Bible teacher, having taught Bible in the Spokane Bible school, the Beulah Beach school and has been used extensively in summer conventions.

Rev. Dyke is not a stranger in New Castle as he was formerly in charge of the local work here for a number of years, leaving here about 20 years ago to accept the superintendency of the Pacific coast district.

From there he entered the Bible school at Spokane, Wash., later being transferred to the Vermilion Bible school. He will have charge of the Sunday services here until his contract with the Bible school expires next month.

The local church has been without a pastor only a short time as Rev. H. W. Lambert, the former pastor, resigned but a few weeks ago to accept a new charge at Newark, N. J.

FILIPINOS' REPRESENTATIVE CONTINUES TO URGE FREEDOM

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, April 22—Are the Philippines fit for independence?

"That depends on whose standard you test fitness by," answered Pedro Guevara, one of the Filipinos' two "resident commissioners" in Washington.

A commissioner's job is similar to a territorial delegate's. He sits in congress but he can't vote.

"As you define fitness here in the United States," continued Don Pedro, "no, I don't suppose we're fit for independence. But then, you see, according to our Filipino standard, you're not fit for independence in the United States."

* * *

The commissioner read, as if absent mindedly, a few headlines from a Washington newspaper he held in his hand.

"'Reed Soon to Take Slush Fund Trail Again.' 'Millionaire Caught in Bootleg Ring.' 'Evangelist Sees Nation's Downfall.' 'Chicago Disarms Following Tuesday's Election.' 'Child Murderer Condemned.' 'Three Dead From Poison Booze.' 'Oil Magnate Faces Jail.' 'Stuffed Pennsylvania Ballot Boxes Charged.'

"No country would enjoy independence," commented Senor Guevara, "if it had to leave it to some other country to decide whether its people were fit for independence or not."

* * *

But 70 per cent of the Philippines' trade is with the United States.

"That's just it," complained the commissioner.

"So long as we're a dependency of the United States, our trade's largely restricted to what we can do with Americans.

"If we were independent, and could shape our own laws, we'd undertake to keep all the trade we have now with the United States, and to develop a lot more, with Great Britain and Germany and France and Spain and the rest of Europe, and Asia—such as we had even in the bad days of Spanish rule, but have lost today."

But an independent Filipino nation might be gobbled up by Japan.

"As a member in good standing of the League of Nations," rejoined Don Pedro, "Japan could hardly find an excuse for grabbing us if we were independent.

"It's true that the Japanese probably will attempt it, if ever they have trouble with the United States and we're still an American dependency.

"That's one of the dangers our connection with the United States exposes us to."

* * *

"And at any rate," insisted the commissioner, "we surely are entitled to one of two things:

"1. To independence, or

"2. To become part of the United States in the full sense of the word.

"If independence is denied to us, we ask statehood."

* * *

"How," queried Senor Guevara, "would you like us as a state?—a different people, a different language, a different race, 10,000 miles away.

"We'd have two senators. Our population would give us around 40 representatives. We'd hold the balance of power. The United States wouldn't govern us. We'd govern the United States.

"Caramba! It's impossible!

"All right. You can't give us statehood. Then, in all fairness, you must grant us independence.

"It seems to me so just a request that I don't see how you can long refuse."

CAR SKIDS AND IS CAUSE OF DAMAGE

Pat Dempsey of 325 Boyles avenue reported Thursday that he was enroute west on East Washington street, opposite the C. Ed Smith Hardware company store, when the car of Lloyd Fennell of No. 4 Fern street, which was being driven in the rear of his machine, skidded into and damaged his machine.

Parrot Peddlers Say Business Is Becoming Ruined

(International News Service)

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 22.—The phonograph and the radio have put the parrot business "on the bum."

That is the emphatic opinion of parrot vendors of this city who in the years gone by reaped a rich harvest from the sale of the noisy and abusive bird.

Once upon a time Mexican peddlers sold parrots on the San Antonio streets every season. Now only a few stores can be found in the city where the birds may be purchased. May and June were the great parrot months here.

Another reason for the bearish parrot market according to a dealer wha is wise in the ways of the world is the proverbial connection between spinsterhood and the bird.

"Parrots have usually been associated with old maids" this parrot dealer said. "That idea nowa-days however fails to strike a responsive chord for even the old maids are not really spinsters."

NEW CASTLE VISITOR LAUDS WORLD'S TONIC

Suffered With Catarrh of the Head For Long Time

Head Is Clear of Mornings Now and Feels Better In Every Way

"I want two more bottles," said Mr. W. H. Smith of Rochester, Pa., as he walked into a local drug store the past week.

"I have used only one bottle of World's Tonic and it is the best thing for my catarrh I have ever found and I am only too glad to give it my endorsement.

"This catarrh has had me in its clutches for a long time and I have spent many a dollar on so-called catarrh medicines. Every morning would get up with my nose and head all choked up with mucus matter and would require fifteen or twenty minutes of hawking and spitting to clear it out. All during the day mucus would drip down my throat and had to hawk and constantly be clearing my throat to keep this mucus from going into my stomach. Was becoming uneasy, as some of the mucus I spit up was tinged with blood and was fearful that it might affect my lungs. Suffered also with pains in back of my head and heavy dull feeling in front part about twice each week. My breath was offensive and my stomach was all out of sorts most of the time.

"I had used many kinds of medicines before, as I stated, some that you apply right in your nose and throat, but they didn't do me much good. In fact, nothing I ever tried helped me very much until I started World's Tonic. This first bottle is relieving my catarrh entirely. I want two more bottles to carry home with me as my wife and I leave tomorrow.

"I spit up very little mucus now and I'm glad to say there are no signs of blood. My head of mornings is clear as a bell and my stomach is giving me less trouble every day. World's Tonic is giving me relief and when I get entirely rid of my catarrh I will be well paid for my visit to New Castle as here I found World's Tonic.

Let the World's Tonic man at the local drug stores explain just how World's Tonic should be used to obtain the best and quickest results.

Sold by McKee's, Eckerd's, Paisley's, Smith's, and all other good druggists. (249)

Red Book Club Annual Meeting

Unique Gathering At Event At Lawrence Club On Thursday Night

J. A. GEALY IS ACCORDED HONOR

As you may have noticed, Christmas comes but once a year. There's a line of poetry following that but let it pass, the thing is that Christmas is not alone in coming once a year. The annual meeting and banquet of the Red Book club, that sacrosanct shrine within a shrine of the Lawrence club comes but once a year also, which is often enough, and that once was last night.

There really wasn't much excuse for the banquet this year, except that the members had to get out of the house for an evening, and also the fact that the cabbose players of the club, E. A. Fenton and F. J. Perry were the losers this year and had to stand the expense of the dinner.

Tribute to J. A. Gealy

Perhaps the outstanding feature of the banquet was the tribute to James A. Gealy who leaves soon for the great open faces of California. Mr. Gealy has been a member of the Red Book club since the Red Book only had two pages and his remarks during the evening were a classic, a gem, and a thing of beauty. The pathos in his voice as he threw the sign of the order, three fingers held aloft, had a touch of pathos and sadness in it.

The emblem of the club graced the festive board, the emblem being a pristine white lilly tastefully decorated with a green stripe. This was provided by the keeper of the emblem, Clyde Smith, who originated it.

During the business session H. G. Preston was elected to take Mr. Gealey's place as a regular member, the charge being given by E. A. Fenton and was something akin to the charge of the light brigade. In it he discussed the merits of two pairs and warned the new member against the perils that would beset his path.

In Mr. Preston's place Dr. W. A. Jones was elected as a Class A member and the status of a Class A member was explained in more or less detail by S. D. Pearson. He warned him to take no part in a crimonious discussion particularly the three cent gas tax. This tax Mr. Pearson classed as a burden on the owners of cigar lighters.

C. P. Byers was elected as a substitute in place of Dr. Jones, and Q. A. McBride and James B. Foster were initiated. This charge was delivered by Dr. H. E. Zerner and if you know Doc you know it was plenty of charge. F. J. Perry also delivered a diatribe on the uselessness of substitute members, and utter futility of allowing them to live. The ameba he explained towers far above the heighth of a substitute member.

During the general discussion which took place the literary work of the club for the next year was outlined. The works of that well known old master, Hoyle, will be taken up.

At an early hour the meeting adjourned as the night watchman had to go home.

Explorers Of Pigmies Tell Of Race

One Battle Enough For Little Savages Against Moderns

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Five men a year ago went into the Dutch Guinea "Valley of Death" in search of pigmies. Four were back in Washington to report to the Smithsonian Institution success in the perilous undertaking.

In the valleys of interior New Guiena a trible of pigmies, none more than four feet in height was discovered. The scientists also collected hundreds of rare exhibits for the National Museum.

Headed by Prof. M. W. Sterling, Berkley, Cal., the party included R. K. Peck, Elgin, Ill., A. E. Hamer, Colfox, Iowa, S. H. Hedberg, Chicago, and H. E. Hoyt, New York aviator.

Hoyt died a victim of fever.

The expedition was warned that to venture in the "valley of death" meant extermination. They faced savage tribes, fever and hardships incident to traveling over unexplored grounds.

Co-operation was obtained from the Dutch government and the Indian committee for scientific research of Batavia, Java, and the determined band went ahead.

The party started out in five vessels. It included 400 men, Ambonese soldiers, Borneo canoemen and Malay convicts for laborers.

After reaching Dutch Guiena the party moved inland 90 miles and on the first trek the explorers were attacked by savages, armed with bow and arrows and blow guns, after killing 12 or 15 savages, the explorers routed their attacks.

Hundreds of miles inland the party traveled, fighting off savage attacks every few miles. An airplane was used to reconnoiter the mountain country.

The pigmies were found living in huts and were a friendly race. They traded agriculture implements made out of stone for bits of glass jewelry. The stone exhibits will form an exhibit at the museum.

PAYS FINE.

Oscar Russell arrested last night by Officer Dukes and charged with disorderly conduct paid a fine of $5.0 this morning.

Nearly 11,000 new buildings have gone up in Sydney, N. S. W., in the past year.

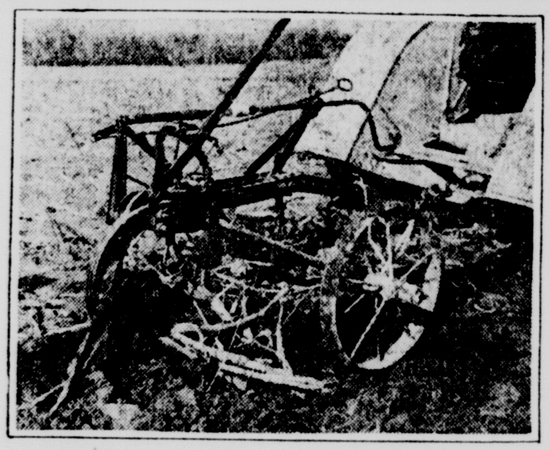
WIRE YOUR PLOW TO BATTLE BORER



A few cents worth of No. 9 wire, properly attached to a plow as in this picture, is helping to rout the European corn borer. Throughout the infested area this spring farmers are using wires like this, each 10 or 12 feet long, to put the stalks and refuse in the bottom of the furrow.

How To Feed Four A Month On $25 Stirs Norwegians

OSLO, Norway, April 22.—All Norway is in a ferment over a cook book.

No society scandal, political intrigue or diplomatic revelation is recalled which created a furore equalling that provoked by a little book of recipes written by Mrs. Ester Meirdell, a native of Sweden, who married a Norwegian and lives at the inland town of Kongsberg. She is in moderate circumstances and like hundreds of thousands of American housewives is faced with the problem of providing three square meals daily for hungry families.

Mrs. Meidell's cook book gives menus for a family of four which, she maintains, can be provided at a total cost of 100 kroner (about $25) monthly. It was this statement that infuriated the good housewives of Norway and Mrs. Meidell was immediately challenged to prove it.

The cook book author came to Oslo and gave public demonstrations. Mounted police had to clear the streets of eager husbands and housewives who clamored to hear her secrets about cheap and wholesome food. Four doctors were appointed to supervise the experiment and ascertain the nutritive value of Mrs. Meidell's dishes. The verdict was in her favor.

Mrs. Meidell has been flooded with letters full of accusations from women and praises from husbands. Socialist and Communist leaders are incensed. They are negotiating with employers regarding wages, and the new cook book has embarrased them in their cost of living argument.

U. S. And Cleveland Agree On Harbor

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 22.—Government approval of Cleveland's new harbor and lake front development practically assures the project and plans will be completed soon, it was announced.

W. R. Hopkins, city manager, has reached an agreement with federal engineers and formal approval by the war department is expected within a few days.

The project will cost approximately $15,000,000. It is regarded as one of Cleveland's most important industrial developments and negotiations have been under way for years.

Besides the new harbor and docks, which includes facilities for 100 ships, approximately 1,000 acres of land for railroad yards and industries will be devoted to the project. A new 185-foot highway with separate channels for high speed traffic and trucks is also planned.

How Best To Oil Gun Is Revealed By Expert

Weapon Should Be Warm And Dry And Lubricant Should Be Poured In

To oil a gun properly requires the observation of a few cardinal principles. First, the gun should be thoroughly warm and dry; second, the oil should be warm, thoroughly flat and free from moisture and air; third, the oil should be poured or run on and not rubbed in. These three things seem very simple, and they are, and it is equally easy to overlook any of them and the neglect of any of them will surely lead to trouble.

Metal which is cold is apt to encase in its interstices and crevices both air and moisture under cold oil, and even warm oil if shaken and filled with air is apt to carry globules of air. If the oil and metal are both warm and the oil is applied by the common method of rubbing it on, it is apt to be stirred into more or less of an emulsion which will contain moisture or air or both. For this reason, the three rules above stated must be carefully observed and applied, simple as they seem.

To oil a gun safely, the proper method is to wipe the gun off thoroughly and carefully and lay it in a good warm place long enough for all its metal parts to become thoroughly warm and dry. Don't take an oil can which expels oil by air pressure accomplished by squeezing its sides, but put the oil in a bottle with a mouth large enough to pour out without bubbling and place the bottle where it will be thoroughly warmed and expel the air. If this oil is poured upon and run on a warm metal, and laid in a warm place and turned so the oil can run into all the crevices, almost any oil can be safely relied upon to protect a gun against rust. But if the oil is rubbed, the user need not be surprised when he picks up his gun some weeks or months later to find that the air he has rubbed into the oil has rusted his gun.—Forest and Stream.

LONDON, April 19—King George is expected to ring the world's largest carillon by radio on Dominion Day, July 1, when the great bells will peal out for the first time from the Tower of the Houses of Parliament at Ottawa.

It has taken the founders, Gillett and Johnston of Croydon, eighteen months to cast the great carillon. It is expected that radio listeners, not only in England, but in the farthest outposts of the British Empire, will be able to hear the chimes.

The carillon commemorates the peace of 1918 and the part, and the sacrifices of Canada in the war. It consists of 53 bells weighing just as many tons, mounted on a huge steel framework, which in itself weighs 22 tons.

An inscription on the largest bell of ten tons is in French and English, and round the top maple leaves have been moulded. This bell will be the second largest in Canada, and the third largest on the American Continent.

Indiana Spends $9,000,000 For Concrete Roads

To Build Great Bridge Over Ohio River From Evansville

Will Pay For Big Program Out Of Taxes On Gasoline And Automobiles

By ROBERT W. GINSBURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

INDIANAPOLIS, April 22—With the paving season barely started, Indiana is planning to lay approximately $9,000,000 worth of concrete on her state highways this year, besides starting preliminary work on a $3,000,000 bridge over the Ohio at Evansville, John D. Williams, director of the state highway commission says.

Although the expenditure has been planned, the state will not go in debt for the construction of its roads, Williams said. The state gasoline tax and automobile licenses will pay for the construction work, the director said.

Under the Indiana laws the state cannot issue bonds for any purpose. But these are unnecessary, Williams said.

Enviable Position.

The Highway Commission Director showed that Indiana holds an enviable position among other states in hard surfaced roads. This state has more maintained mileage under the federal 7 per cent system than any other in the Union, Williams said.

Williams expressed a belief that Indiana would construct more concrete roads this year than any of the states surrounding it. Several of the neighbors, Williams said, are out of funds for construction work although some are making plans to lay more mileage than Indiana.

The Director said Indiana Commission has a hang over from last year of 35 miles contracted for, but unpaved. So far this year contracts have been let for the construction of 150 miles more and bids will be asked for the construction of 150 miles additional before the end of this summer.

$3,000,000 Bridge.

Besides this work the Commission is making arrangements to start building the $2,000,000 bridge over the Ohio river at Evansville.

The last legislature made provisions whereby the state commission could undertake the work.

Although the work will be done by Indiana and paid for by the state Vanderburgh county, in which Evansville is located will be assessed one fourth of the cost. Kentucky will be asked to share the other fourth of the expenses leaving the state to bear one half of the total cost.

Construction of the bridge at Evansville is expected to open up a large territory in the western part of Kentucky.

"I Hope You Don't Feel Hurt!" Said Surgeon To Cartoonist Billy Debeck After Operation

THREE NURSES ON HAND AS BARNEY GOOGLE (OR IS IT ERIC VAN HORN?) UNDERGOES 'KNIFE'

Those who follow "Barney Google and Spark Plug" in The News and the millions who do likewise elsewhere, will be glad to learn that William Morgan DeBeck, who draws that famous comic, is recovering rapidly from an appendix operation which was of an exceptionally serious nature.

But did that interfere with the doings of Barney Google and Eric Van Horn and Sparky? It did not. Until an hour before the surgeons had selected their scalpels, DeBeck was busy making pencil sketches of his coming daily strips.

Forty-eight hours later he insisted on sitting up in bed to finish those strips by "inking them in" to the amazement of the doctors and the amusement of a bevy of nurses. DeBeck was caught sketching a Sunday page by a visiting photographer. The cartoonist was in smiles. For the head surgeon had just announced: "You'll be able to leave the hospital in a few days and (looking towards some pretty nurses, he added) I hope you don't feel hurt!" Barney and Eric could have said no more!

British Drink Bill Shows They Spend Billion For Booze

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 22.— Britain's drink bill for 1926 was only a few millions short of the interest on the total debt of the country, according to estimates made by the United Kingdom Alliance, a national temperance organization.

In his annual statement, George B. Wilson, political and literary secretary of the Alliance, says that he estimates the amount spent on intoxicating liquors in Great Britain during 1926 at $1,506,500,000 as against about $1,575,000,000 in 1925.

The expenditure per head of the population was about $33 as against $38, says Wilson, a reduction on both totals of about 4 1-2 per cent over 1925, with a similar reduction in consumption measured in terms of absolute alcohol.

There was a reduced consumption of spirits, but increased consumption of beer and wine.

"No thoughtful person," he says, "can view with unconcern the fact that last year the collective energies of the wage-earners of Great Britian were for over six weeks solely devoted to earning the money required to pay their collective drink bill.

"It is not merely that the nation fails to earn, and so cannot spend, which limits that increased home consumption so essential to commercial prosperity. It is also the money which the nations earns, but wastefully expends, when it might be used to increase production, and so enable a further development of wealth to take place."

New Books Added At City Library

Two In Series Of Merchandising Manuals Are Placed In Library

Two books in the series of Merchandising Manuals have recently been added to the library. One is, "Men's and Boy's Clothing and Furnishings," designed to help the salesperson who is in a store or department having these wares for sale.

The book gives very complete instructions about garments, materials, talking points for clothing, merchandise information and methods of teaching salesmanship.

The other manual, "China and Glassware" gives the salesperson help in selling china and glass; manufactures and important wares in China, the contribution of different countries to glass and china products, classifying of glass and of china stock, and methods of teaching. Both of these books are prepared under the administrative direction of the University of Pittsburgh with the assistance of seven cooperating retail stores of Pittsburgh.

Foreign Medical Men Study British Health In Countrywide Tour

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 22.—Medical officers of eleven countries, who have been studying British methods of ensuring public health in a three week's countrywide tour, are enthusiastic about the "healthy English girl."

"Your girls are wonderful," says Dr. Jonas Sliupas, the Lithuanian representative. They have undoubtedly gained a standard of physical fitness to be found nowhere else in the world. I have been impressed with their vigor. They are so much more energetic than the men, and are always smiling cheerfully. I have not seen a dull looking girl during my stay."

California Woman Offers New Data On 'Mystery' Star

(International News Service)

BERKELEY, Cal., April 22.—A "mystery" star 2,940,000,000,000,000 miles, or 500 light years, from the earth, has been studied and additional data concerning it obtained by Miss Dorothy Applegate graduate student at the University of California, it has been anounced.

The star, Beta Doradus, is classed as one of the unsolved mysteries with which astronomy has to deal.

Miss Applegate, from studies at Lick Observatory, was able to furnish accurate data concerning the star's movements and suggested that it may vary in brightness.

Previous to her discoveries, no evidence of light variation had been noted.

"A considerable number of stars observed under the spectroscope," said Miss Applegate, "are found to have velocities toward or away from the earth which varies with the time of observation.

"In most cases this variation is sperodic and usually is explainable by the hypothesis that they are double stars, revolving about each other, and at such a great distance from the earth that they appear to be a single body.

"In some cases, however, the motion is such that it cannot be explained as purely orbital. This is true of the class of stars known as Cepheid variables.

"Stars exhibiting variable velocities of this kind usually vary in brightness also. But a few possessing these pecularities in motion have no discoverable light variation. Beta Doradus falls under this general class."

If further observations support Miss Applegate's findings, the mystry of the star may be somewhat cleared up, it was said at the university.

New, Cheap Dye Is Now Made Of Coal

(International News Service)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 22.—Discovery and successful manufacture of a dye unlike any other dye being produced in the world in a plant in Burlington, N. D., has been placed on the market, according to a business review of a Minneapolis bank.

The nwe dye known as Dakalite is cheaply manufactured from waste of lignite coal, billions of tons which is found in western North Dakota. The minerals dye or color base is in brown shades and is being used most extensively as a wood stain.

Competing material, the review states, is now imported largely from Germany, at a much higher cost than the price at which the North Dakota product can be sold in the home market. "That it can compete abroad is shown by the fact that it already has been sold in England, China and New Zealand," the review states.

"Present productive capacity of the Burlington plant is one ton of the powdered dye in an eight hour shift.

Prince Soon Moving To New Quarters In Marlborough House

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 22.— With the work of renovation steadily proceeding according to schedule, it is anticipated that the Prince of Wales will be able to take up residence at Marlborough house, the former London home of the late Queen Alexandra, by July at the latest.

Latest information from the board of works is to the effect that the house is practically habitable, having been brought into line with modern requirements.

A model garage, equipped with the latest mechanical improvements will shortly replace the old-fashioned stables. Bathrooms have been added, modern heating and lighting systems installed and necessary structural alterations effected. Marlborough house today, if somewhat large for the ideal bachelor residence, is as up-to-date for practical working purposes as the latest thing in labor-saving apartments.

Almost all that remains to be decided on is the color scheme for some of the prince's personal rooms. Queen Mary is advising the prince in this matter, and the choice will probably be made shortly.

In the state apartments the pictures, tapestries, and other objects d'art are to remain as they were in Queen Alexandria's day.

$10 And Booze Price Of Girl Now Bigamist

Saw Father Make Sale For Money And Whiskey—Suffered 14 Years

Husband Is Now Behind Charges Which Brought Her To Prison

(International News Service)

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 22.—At the age of 14 Grace Vare saw her father accept $10 and a bottle of whiskey from Isaac Williams, 32. That was the price for which she was sold into marriage.

In a cell in the Broome county jail the girl—now Mrs. Grace Williams Odell, 28 of Johnson City—recalled that scene 14 years ago when she said she was sold to Williams and forced to marry him.

After living with Williams for more than 13 years and suffering abuse, she said, Mrs. Odell finally ran away, fell in love with Lewis Odell, 25 and was married to him last spring.

Facing Bigamy Charge.

Williams who she alleges paid $10 and a bottle of whiskey for her now brings the bigamy charge.

Her second husband Odell also is held in jail. He is charged with having married her when he knew she had a husband.

"I was living with my father and mother in Livingston Manor, in Sullivan county, when I was sold" Mrs. Odell explained.

Mr. Williams lived there too and he was pretty friendly with my father.

"One night when they were having a party the terrible sale was arranged and my father told me I'd have to marry Williams. I fought against it as much as I could but it wasn't any use.

"They frightened me so that I had to go through with the ceremony.

"I was only 14; I was afraid; Mr. Williams was drunk when we were married. He took me home with him. It was awful."

Two children were born to the girl and her husband. One is 10 years old now and the other 7.

Ran Away From Him.

"He was mean to me. I asked a state trooper what to do and a justice of the peace" she said. "They told me I didn't have to live with im if he abused me. I didn't know which way to turn. But I couldn't stand it any longer. I took the kids and came to work on a farm near Johnson City."

Mrs. Odell met Odell at the farm and they fell in love almost at first sight, she said.

"Honestly I thought I had a right to marry him" she declared. "People told me so. They said I could because I was forced into the other marriage. I didn't tell Mr. Odell about Mr. Williams. I love him and I'll never go back to that man who bought me."

Honolulu's new city hall will cost $750,000.

Veteran, 86, Freed Of Killing Man For "Talking Too Much"

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., April 22—Rufus H. Pierce, 86-year-old Civil war veteran, who shot and killed Lincoln C. Ensley, 66, who served in the Spanish-American war, "because he talked too much," has been acquitted of murder.

Pierce killed Ensley by firing three shots through a door of his home when Ensley demanded admittance after he had been ejected as an undesirable boarder.

"He talked too much and I told him to leave my house and not come back," Pierce testified at his trial here. "He was always hanging around the house chinning the women folks. I wanted some peace so I told him to get out." The jury deliberated nine minutes.

But minerals, too.
And vitamins.
And the tender oat-bran.

These too-often-neglected factors are highly important, according to modern discoveries in nutrition. They are necessary for normal growth in children—which usually means normal sleep, normal play, and normal progress at school.

And for real health in grown-ups.

Mother's Oats is a natural whole-grain food; finely and evenly milled by careful millers. You can count on it always to cook up smooth and even, and you will love its rich flavor. Yale Gets Coin Collection With 10,000 Pieces Of Rarest Money

By R. T. BULKELEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 22.—Ten thousand coins that tell the history of the modern world have been given Yale University by Rev. William Henry Owen, rector of Holy Trinity church, New York, a Yale graduate in the class of 1897. The collection was forty years in the making and today is credited with being one of the best in existence.

From the Pine Tree shilling of New England in 1650 and the elephant half-penny of Carolina in 1694 through the Bryan dollar made by Tiffany and the Gorham Co., of New York with 100 cents worth of silver to each coin in 1895, the United States collection runs with all copper cents and half-cents, and all the coins issued in the Thirteen colonies.

The first coins minted on the American continent are here, the Charles-and-Johanna pieces done in Mexico City early in the 16th century. France from the time of Henry of Navarre through the Second Republic; the coins of the Popes from Martin V; and the coins of the Holy Roman Empire and Nineteenth Century Germany, with a great Russian series are shown.

Portraits on the Yale coins include emperors, kings, queens, princes and dukes, popes, bishops and abbots. The rise of nationalism, the course of reformation, and the development of our modern states are indicated for students.

Coins of Poland and Switzerland are complete. Those of Switzerland are called the finest in the United States, while some of the Vatican collections are declared to be in better condition than those preserved at Rome. The British collection shows coins of Stephen, Richard III, Henry VIII, Edward VI, Mary I, Elizabeth, Charles I, and William and Mary besides all the rulers of that nation through George V. The German collection has 2,000 pieces.

Many of the coins are so small as to be almost microptic, and others range to four inches in diameter.

The new Yale collection will be displayed for the first time when Commencement is held in June. Yale already had 12,000 coins, and strange to say not one of the Owen collection duplicates to an appreciable extent the previous group.

Indiana Dems Ask Convention And Candidate

Fear National Conclave At Capital Next Year Might Hurt Woollen

Taggart Trying Comeback Backing Both Movements In State Ranks

(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 22.—Democrats of Indiana, the politically doubtful state, are in a doubtful state themselves these days. For they are embarrassed by two national ambitions that threaten to cross each other.

These aspirations are to hold the 1928 national convention in Indianapolis and to induce that gathering to nominate Evans Woollen, president of the largest bank in the Hoosier Capital, for the presidency.

Backers of Woollen are fearful about pushing the boom nationally because, since the tumultous demonstrations for Al Smith at the 1924 convention in New York, party leaders are shying away from the national gathering in the home city of a candidate.

Taggart Interested

Former United States Senator Thomas Taggart, wily member of the "big three" that rules the party, is behind both the Woollen and the convention movements and is having his hands full. Taggart first must stage a come-back in politics in his own state, for he has suffered a few organization reverses during recent years.

Woollen, a Harvard graduate, has a national reputation as an economist, but has had little political experience other than an unsuccessful race against Senator Arthur R. Robinson last November.

Opponents of Woollen in Indiana say that Taggart is only playing the old favorite-son brand of politics with the hope of trading during the convention for political prestige.

However, friends of the former senator point out that he could have obtained the presidential nomination for the late Senator Samuel M. Ralston at the 1924 convention, had Senator Ralston not declined to accept the honor because of ill health.

Party Conferences

Charles A. Greathouse, member of the national committee from Indiana, has predicted that the national gathering will be held in a city of the Middle West. He said he believed that the only cities that will have a chance will be Indianapolis, Chicago, Cleveland, St. Louis or Denver.

Hoosier political observers predict a series of vital conferences of national chieftains will be entertained at French Lick by Taggart during the next few months.

STATE POLICE MAKE 1298 ARRESTS IN MONTH OF MARCH

HARRISBURG, April 22—There were 1,298 arrests made by the state highway patrol during March it was announced today. Fines totaling $17,138.50 were imposed as a result of the arrests. Of that that amount $12,838.50 were returned to the state treasury and $4,300 to the local authorities where the arrests were made.

Reckless driving was the chief cause of the arrests, 326 of the total coming under that head. There were 227 for violation of the lighting provisions and 100 for violating road rules.

See Wet Ontario As Booze Supply For Northern Ohio

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., April 22.—There is about to be a new current in Lake Erie, according to those who know the lake. It will be a current of whiskey, beer and wine and it will flow from the Canadian side southward.

The province of Ontario, officially "wet" on April 15, will be the source of much smuggling, it is predicted. The fact that more speed boats are being built for lake usage this spring than ever before indicates that there is some basis for such predictions.

With only three real rum chasers on the lake, authorities on this side admit they are inadequately equipped for the smuggling menace which arises with a "wet Ontario." The government customs service will be little better than a "sieve" in coping with the new booze flow, according to predictions, since officials must spend most of their time with other duties rather than catching liquor smugglers.

Bootleggers in Cleveland are already reducing prices; and with all kinds of liquor, at old-fashioned prices, available just across the lake, northern Ohio may become the oasis in the great American prohibition desert this summer.

Hungary Pays High For Her Foodstuffs

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, April 22.—Foodstuffs and clothing has risen rapidly in price since the institution of the pengo as the staple money of the country. Most of the shopkeepers and wholesales made slight raises in prices at the time the old kronen was changed to the pengo, several weeks ago and have failed to drop the prices now that money has become normal.

With these several small increases and a general rise in prices, the consumer is paying about ten per cent more for goods in Budapest now than at the New Year.

Acids In Stomach Cause Indigestion

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Sun To Cool In 2,000,000 Years; Earthquakes To Follow Eclipse

By ENRIQUE ELIAS TREVINE
President Mexican Astronomical Society
(As told to Oscar K. Goll, International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 22.—Planetary reactions during the past two hundred years forshadow the destruction of the earth in 2,000,000 years hence.

Following the total eclipse of the Sun scheduled for June 29th of this year, earthquake disturbances of considerable magnitude will be experienced and will be most perceptible in North American continent in that belt lying between 26 degrees north and 26 degrees south of the Equator.

The eclipse, however, will be visible only in England and the Scandinavian countries.

Recent calculations made by several noted Mexican and Latin-American astronomers in attempting a check-up of the actions of the Sun, find that this mass of blazing heat gases is 1,300,000 times greater than the earth, while its temperature varies between 8,000 and 12,000 degrees.

Sun Cooling Off

Records revealing observations covering a period of more than two hundred years give mute evidence that every day the Sun is losing some of its heat and gradually is growing colder, and, according to present calculations, the time is coming when the Sun's radiance will cease entirely. This will spell death in cold and darkness for every human and living thing on the earth's surface.

However, there is nothing surprising about this, as millions of extinct suns, which once were like the Sun are known to have existed. Like everything else, all luminary planets are born and live to die.

While world astronomers have in the past threatened us with complete annihilation, at the same time backing their theories with apparently very sound arguments, the fact now remains that most recent observations substantiate their claims, and the last ray of heat will have left the Sun 2,000,000 years hence, when its disc will appear just one-sixteenth its present size.

Danger of Collision

The question is often asked: In the ceaseless journey which the earth makes around the Sun at the rate of 90 1-3 miles a second, may it not some day come into collision with the heart of a collossal comet? Barring such an accident the end of the Earth from cold must be regarded as fixed, according to the findings of the most recent studies and calculations.

In about 1,500,000 years from now the time will approach for the gradual blotting out of the Sun. Vegetation will lose the greater part of its vitality, and crops no longer will ripen.

Humanity will gradually press toward the Equatorial zones, soon after which all earthly life will become an impossibility.

Jersey Island Will Help England Catch Rich Tax Dodgers

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 22.—Jersey where there is no such thing as income-tax and whiskey and cigars are surprisingly cheap, has decided after much persuasion, to help the British Exchequer in seeking ways and means of bringing those who should to book.

The States of Jersey—the Parliment of the Channel Islands—has appointed a Special Committee to consider what steps can be taken in impressing a fit and financial sense of responsibility upon those tax shirkers of the mainland who have settled in the island.

This decision has been taken in response to a memorandum from the Home Department in London, which stated that the British Government considered that the avoidance of British taxation by residents in the Channel Islands is likely to be greater in the future; but the Government was trying to stop such avoidance; and that the State of Jersey should cooperate with the Government in the matter.

It has been an open scandal for years, and particularly since the war, that several welathy people—some very well known in English society—whose income is totally derived from British sources, have, by intricacies of registration and other means, entirely avoided payment of British tax levies.

It is said that there are at least six Englishmen domiciled in the island, whose fortunes run into millions of dollars, while hundreds of men of smaller means were known to have established residence there.

One familiar form of tax-dodging is for a wealthy Englishman to register himself in Jersey as a limited company, and to arrange for his dividends from abroad to be paid direct to that company. As there is no income-tax in the island, the advantage of this procedure is apparent.

Marm's Knee Frozen, Board Cold To Award

BISMARCK, N. D., April 22—Freedom of the knees is maintained by school teachers to their own risk according to a decision of the State Workmen's Compensation bureau.

The decision grew out of a claim presented by a school teacher for compensation resulting from injuries sustained when her knees were frozen while on her way to school.

Investigation by the bureau showed that the young woman was wearing silk stockings and a short skirt but that her feet and ankles were protected by galoshes. Portions of her legs between the tops of the galoshes and her knees were frozen. The board disallowed the claim on the ground that the freezing took place while she was en route to work and not while she was on the job.

Another school teacher whose hands were frozen while she was trying to start a fire in her school room was allowed compensation.

Flute Lures Gypsy Robbers To Prison

(International News Service)

ESSEG, Yugo-Slavia, April 22.—A band of robber gypsies were lured to prison here by the notes of a flute. A gypsy woman appeared at the local inn and requested permission to leave a heavy sack there over night, which was granted.

When the maid servant of the inn shut up for the night she noticed that something in the bag moved and in her fright grabbed a rifle and shot through the bag. A badly wounded gypsy boy was found in the bag.

The police were called and they also found a flue in the sack. A curious but musical policeman played a few notes on the flute and almost immediately eight wagons of gypsies appeared in the village.

The gypsies had been hiding and awaiting the plaintiff notes of the flute to make a plundering expedition into the village. Instead they found the policemen and most of the villagers awaiting to escort them to the improvised lock-up.

ERSTWHILE BRYAN SECRETARY NOW DEMOCRATIC HARMONIZER

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Representative Edgar Howard of Nebraska, one of the harmony speakers chosen to squirt oratorical oil on the troubled political waters at the Democrats' Jefferson day banquet, once on a time was William Jennings Bryan's private secretary.

They say on Capitol Hill that he tries to imitate his old boss.

It's a fact that he does wear his hair in a bob, in the Commoner's earlier manner. He goes in for frock coats and statesmanlike black string ties, which "W. J." likewise affected. His face, too, isn't unlike Bryan's, but Nature gave him that, so if it's an imitation it's none of his own handiwork.

* * *

At all events, there's no chance that anybody ever will take Howard for Bryan come to life again, unless the former somehow manages to add about a cubit to his stature.

If he's anything at all to Bryan, he's a pocket edition of him.

I mean he's a physical pocket edition. Mentally he's as bright a Nebraskan as the next one.

That's one reason why I don't believe he's an imitator. He's plenty good enough as genuine Edgar Howard—hasn't any call to figure as a synthetic W. J. Bryan.

If he happens to look a little like "W. J." I'm convinced it's a mere coincidence.

He has one thing Bryan never did have, and that's a sense of humor.

* * *

Yet I never would have picked Howard for a harmonizer.

He starts harmoniously, yes, but he doesn't always end up that way.

One day I happened to overhear him talking with a fellow congressman who was urging on him the desirability of putting the fear of God into a recalcitrant group of politicians.

The idea seemed very repugnant to the Nebraska representative.

"I never could lend myself," he said, "to anything in the nature of intimidation."

"At the same time," he added thoughtfully, after a pause, "I can see no objection to scaring 'em to death."

* * *

Howard is good, however, at "sob stuff".

He's a country editor. I can imagine him sitting down to write the obituary of a defunct subscriber and getting a very pretty story out of a career that it would stump the average biographer to find anything particularly favorable in.

Now at that Democratic banquet—

But heaven forbid that anybody should see a comparison in this.

All I mean to say is:

I can quite readily imagine Representative Howard, in that mushy style of his, getting all the discordant Democratic elements—if there are any—to crying down one another's necks, and forgiving and forgetting and all that kinda thing, so far as the Jefferson Day banquet is concerned. But when everything appears to be perfectly lovely, I'm wondering if he can resist the temptation to do something that'll scare 'em to death.

* * *

Howard's from a state that has to be reckoned with. It's a doubtful state, a corn belt state, a dry state, a turbulent state, traditionally a William J. Bryan state.

Howard has a dickens of a pull with the Democrats there. His influence isn't to be sneezed at for a minute. No wonder they wanted him at their Jefferson Day blowout. The only risky thing about him is that indifference of his to scaring folks.

He calls himself a "free Democrat", with the accent strongly on the first syllable.

German Glider Sets New Record

(International News Service)

KASSEL, April 22—Gliding with a machine towed to a regular airplane is the latest stunt achieved by one of the most daring glide flyers of Germany, Espenlaub. It is claimed that this thrilling experiment was made for the first time in the history of aeronautics.

After being towed to the airplane by means of a long cable both machines started at the same time and Espenlaub unloosened the cable when both machines had reached a considerable heighth. Severed from the "air locomotive" the glidder kept in the air for some time and flew back to the starting ground after some beautiful curves.

A large crowd viewing the sensational experiment cheered the daring glide flyer on his return. Espenlaub plans exhibition flights all over Germany. According to the opinion of the pilot of the motor driven plane gliders will be able to make much longer flights when started by an "air locomotive."

Circus Parade Is Doomed In Cities, Too Many Autos

(International News Service)

PERU, Ind., April 22.—That hallowed institution, the circus parade, will be only a memory within a few years, according to Rex de Rosselli, official of the Hagenback-Wallace circus, which wintered here.

When the classic warning, "hold your horses, here come the elephants," become antiquated the doom of the morning parade was sounded, for Rosselli said too many automobiles congesting traffic have resulted in determination by most circus owners to forego the traditional procession.

The fact that growth of towns has necessitated placing the show tents miles from their center, thereby lengthening the parade route greatly also is a factor, according to the circus official.

A more selfish consideration is the custom of country folk who witness the free procession, but fail to buy tickets for the biz show.

However, Rosselli said the circus men will spend much of the money saved from parade expenses in staging spectacular plays and pageants.

CHILDISH AMBITIONS

Even in our elementary schools, it is considered worth while to start children to thinking of what they will be when they are grown up.

Miss Mary Wilson, teacher of English in the Lincoln-Garfield school, has made this the subject of an English lesson in each of her eight classes. The responses showed extreme originality for there were fifty different lines of work chosen. Even dish washing had one choice and fifty-nine youngsters voted for teaching which was quite complimentary to their teachers.

The criticism often made that the public school method of teaching language stifles originality is not verified in this case for one paper is strikingly unique in its style which is reported to be characteristic of all of this boy's writing. A few of the most interesting papers are given below:

My Ambition

If I were twenty-one I would like to be a business man because he just has to sit at a desk and write letters. Before I can be one though I will have to go through business college.

Llewellyn Eckles

When I am grown up I would like to be a librarian because it is a good clean job, good pay and ladylike. I would like to work up step by step until I got to the top. Then I would be invited to speak to an audience. You would also get a high salary.

Edith Charbonnier, 6A.

I would like to be a dish washer on a train because I always wanted to be one. I told my mother if I ever get out of school that is what I'd like to be because they make lots of money on the trains.

Dorie Lee Doster.

When I am twenty-one I want to be a machinist because I could learn so much about repairing things. When men are working on cars, I always stand around and watch them. Every Saturday when I am sweeping out Henry Rogers' garage I always watch the men at their work repairing cars. Some day when I am big, I hope that I can be a machinist too.

Robert Reynolds, 6B.

My Ambition

What I would like to be when I am big some day is a nurse or a lady doctor. If we would have a war with another country I could be very useful. I could take care of the wounds of the brave soldiers who are out on the battle fields. My mother wants me to be something worth while not a show actor. She wants me to be a nurse or a lady doctor or a bookkeeper. I would rather be a Red Cross nurse. When I am one I will be a good one not a half of one.

Margaret Lovejoy, 6B.

If I were twenty-one years of age, I would go to college and be an athlete or a dare-devil. I would like to be an athlete because it will keep me strong and healthy. I would like to be a dare-devil because I'd like to be like Richard Talmadge and Lucian Albertini who are both kings of all the dare-devils. Another reason that I'd like to be an athlete is that if I get famous I will go out and get a job in the circus. Then when I get a lot of money I'll buy a big circus. After I make more money I'll send for my mother and father to live with me.

John Othites.

"I want to be a sailor," said Bill to his father.

"You may be what you want, Bill," said his father.

"May I be a sailor and a boxer, too?"

"Yes, you may."

"Were you a sailor?"

"Yes, I was a sailor."

"Were you a boxer, too?"

"No, I was a soldier, too."

"Then I want to be a sailor and a soldier, because you were both of them."

"I am glad that you want to be what I was."

"I love you Daddy because you love me."

FEDERAL ST. WOMAN SUFFERED KIDNEY MISERY FOR 5½ YEARS

After Taking Matamel She Cooks and Cleans House

Trenton, N. J.—Mrs. Rebecca Colson of 138 Federal Street is on her feet again, her many friends will be glad to learn! In an interview here today she stated with great enthusiasm:

"For over five years I have been confined to bed because of back trouble, kidneys bothering me something terrible. All this started since the birth of my second child. I was not able to do my housework, no cooking or anything. I used the wonderful Matamel, and here I am doing my housework, cooking for my family and feeling many years younger. Before taking Matamel I was up many times during the night, but now I sleep right through without being disturbed. I can raise my arms. I have no more pains, no swellings, and if all others who feel as I did would try this Matamel like I did I am sure they would feel much better. No more cramps, headaches or dizzy spells".

'NO MORE GETTING UP AT NIGHT'

Matamel is a wonderful natural herb sap from Mexico. Matamel is not a patent medicine—it contains no drugs; 200,000 packages already sold, and new hundreds find relief daily, as did Mr. Galloway, Yardley, Pa.; Mrs. H. Scheller, Elizabeth, N. J., and others.

If you must get up at night, if you have awful pains in back, arms or legs, swellings, headaches and feel ready to cave in, why not give Matamel a trial? Dispensed by:

St. Louis To Treat Drug Addicts With New Preparation

By W. F. SULLIVAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ST. LOUIS, April 22.—So successful have experiments in the treatment of drug addicts with narcosan resulted, that welfare organizations in this city are planning to arrange satisfactory quarters where large numbers of victims can be properly treated.

Director of Public Welfare Salisbury, in making public the first official report on the results of the new drug remedy, quotes Superintendent Eugene A. Scharff of the City Hospital as saying that the tests made were "most gratifying."

Seven narcotic victims, who had been addicts for varying periods of from two to seventeen years, have just completetd their course of treatment and are believed to have been "cured."

"Toward the end of their treatment, the patients all expressed a desire to go out and work," the report states. "They are unanimous in their statements that this treatment has been much easier than any 'cures' they have taken in the past, all of them having taken one of more previous 'cures.'"

Nearly all of the patients responded quickly to the treatment and all gained from 5 to 15 pounds, the report states. Most of them were morphine addicts.

"It was striking to note," the report continues, "the immediate good effects of this treatment. On the first night, most of the patients slept as they hadn't slept for years' Their appetites immediately increased."

The welfare organizations plan to make the special "drug treatment" quarters convenient in every respect with necessary medical and nursing staffs.

Says Americans Were Protected

By JOHN PAGE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MEXICO CITY, April 22.—The bandits who attacked and burned the Guadelajara train on Tuesday, causing approximately 100 persons to be shot or burned to death, made no attempt to injure the seven American passengers on the train but on the contrary showed them the greatest consideration and evinced anxiety for their safety, according to survivors of the raid who arrived here yesterday.

Dr. Henry Dock, an American resident of Guadelajara, who was one of the survivors of the raid, told a vivid tale of the affair on his arrival here and declared that care had been taken that no harm came to the American passengers.

Woman Dies From Burns Received In Making Kitchen Fire

GREENVILLE, Pa., April 22.—Mrs. Guy Young, 30, died last night as the result of an explosion in her home which brought about the destruction of the house by fire and the serious injury of her five-year-old son, Bobby.

Mrs. Young had attempted to light the kitchen fire with kerosene oil. While lying in a hospital after the catastrophe she said a blinding flash and detonation followed the first spurt of the oil on the fire. Her clothes ablaze the woman telephoned to the fire department and the hospital, then beat out the flames in her own clothing and that of the boy. Making sure every spark in their attire was quenched and suffering fearful agonies, the mother clasped the child in her arms and made her way to the home of Carl Weible, a neighbor, and calmly awaited the arrival of the ambulance and the firemen. When the ambulance stopped at the Weible door she walked unassisted, taking the child with her. In the meantime the fire department had begun playing water on the house, but it was then too late to save the dwelling.

Simplicity Marks American Parties

LONDON, April 22.—Simplicity is the keynote of parties given by American hostesses in London society this season.

The extravagances of the past are no more and the man in the street no longer reads in the papers sensational reports of costly functions.

Prominent among these entertainers are the Duchess of Roxburgh, formerly Miss May Goelet of Newport; the Countess of Granard, formerly Miss Beatrice Mills of Staatsburg and the Honorable Lady Bingham formerly Mrs. Sloan Chauncey of Kentucky.

Says Cold Lunches And Ice Water Ruined His Stomach

Pain Got So Great Local Man Was Almost Starving Himself. Also Suffered With Rheumatism. Tells How Dreco Brought Relief

"I suffered so with nervousness, rheumatism and stomach trouble life was almost unbearable," stated Mr. Joseph Henry Mann, 25 Miller St., this city, in a recent talk with Dreco man at Eckerd's Cut Rate Store.

"I'm a rougher at the tin mills and I believe drinking ice water when I was overheated and eating cold lunches just about ruined my stomach. Why, I got so the very sight or smell of food made me sick at the stomach and I was almost starving myself because everything I ate turned sour and formed gas in my stomach. Often I was almost doubled up with cramps and the gas pains would shoot around my heart till my heart fluttered like a leaf.

"To make matters worse I became as nervous as an old man of 80 and my knee and hip joints were so stiff and sore I was in continual pain and my back was so weak I could hardly lift anything. I couldn't sleep half the night because of my pains and I was becoming such a wreck all the men at the mills were remarking about it.

"Since taking Dreco for three weeks however I am almost like a new man. My stomach is in such good shape that I can eat cabbage, beans, tomatoes, pork, sausage, pickles and all the other foods that used to be poison to me. I have a good appetite now and enjoy every bite. The pains in my knees, hips and back have also disappeared, my nerves are as steady as the Rock of Gibraltor and I feel 100% better in every way since taking Dreco."

Mr. Paul Thorpe, the well-known expert from the Dreco Laboratories now at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco for best results. Go to see him. His advice is free.

Sun Spots Blamed For Brain Storms

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Human storms—exemplified in crime waves, wildness of youth and student suicides—all these, like difficulties in radio reception, cyclones and other meterological disturbances may be traced to the increasing activities of sun spots. Thus, some authorities fix the responsibility for the many human failings which have puzzled psychologists and scientists in the last few years.

As some imaginative scientists see it, the whole world, from nature to humans, is in a period of unprecedented unrest, groping for the unattainable, for new thrills, spurred on by the mysterious electrical activity that is hurled out from the sun.

In 1928 the sun spots will reach a maximum of activity—in that year the earth will receive the most intense bombardment of electrical particles, with the undoubted influence upon human destiny.

Sun spots run in cycles of eight or ten years. Similarly waves of exceptional freedom in human action, and periods of extreme puritanism or reform have succeeded each other through the history of the world.

"Our universe," a scientific dreamer explained, "in fact is a gigantic electron revolving around some prodigious central attraction, just as the earth courses through space about the sun.

"The human body is electrical in make-up. It is composed of millions of tiny electrons in its atomatic structure.

"Being electrical in nature, the human body is influenced by the electrical bombs which are cast off from the sun, when that center of life is in its period of greatest activity.

"It is not strange that the theory should arise that in the active cycle of the sun, this electrical bombardment should have a pronounced influence on the human mind and body."

Proponents of the sun-spot theory of present day abnormality insist that the "flapper age" will begin to subside soon after 1928, when activity of the gigantic sun spots will begin their periodical decline.

Wales Has Stable Of Finest Hunters

(International News Service)

MELTON MOWBRAY, Leicestershire, Eng., April 22.—The Prince of Wales is getting together one of the finest stables of hunters in Britain. Today he has 14 of the finest horses in the famous "Shires".

It was in 1921 that the prince took up hunting, then owning but one aged mare, valued at very few dollars. But he underwent a strenuous and strict schooling under one of the most fearless and hard riders in Britain—Captain George Drummond.

His enthusiasm and readiness to ride any kind of animal, led him into buying some of the finest horses in England. Today his stable at Craven Lodge contains his favorite, "Passport II" which figured in many of the principal steeplechases last year, "Just an Idea," "Son and Heir," "March Maid," "Hard to Find," "Pikeman," "How's That" and half a dozen others of the handsomest animals in the country.

His stables are his pride. They are scrupulously clean, electrically illuminated buildings. Facing the entrance to each stall is a highly polish ebony plaque bearing the occupant's name, and the stable utensils all have the "Prince's Feathers."

More than 2,250,000 pounds of indigo was raised in India in the past year.

Parole Is Granted To Edmond Doyno Who Helped State

Edmond Doyno, who was charged with forgery and embezzlement in connection with the failure of the First State bank, was paroled for two years upon the payment of costs, by Judge Hildebrand this morning. Doyno's parole was largely due to the fact that he had turned state's evidence at the trial of Victor Doyno, who was convicted on similar charges. A. Martin Graham and J. Norman Martin, solicitors for the bank, stated that through information furnished by Edmond Doyno about $100,000 had been recovered. Attorney R. K. Aiken, who represented a client, also told how Edmond Doyno had helped in securing $20,000.

Naval Reserves To Train At Sea During Summer

Over Six Thousand To Go To Sea For Summer Period Of Training

By MAURITZ A. HALLGREN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Naval reservists of the Atlantic seaboard and the Middle West, some six thousand strong, will go down to the sea in ships this summer for a period of training that will bring them into contact with actual naval work in all its various phases.

Destroyer squadrons of the scouting fleet will be used in accordance with the policy laid down two years ago, which provides for the employment of active units of the fleet for the training cruises of reserve officers and men. The training program, to be conducted in the vicinity of Long Island, N. Y., and Newport, R. I., calls for maneuvers in squadron formation, general drills, target practice and certain forms of torpedo and mine practices.

Four Cruises

The training period will be divided into four cruises. On the first cruise from July 2 to 16, reservists from Brooklyn will sail from their home port on the Destroyer Fox; those from Baltimore and Washington will leave from Washington on the Allen; Boston reservists will embark in Boston on the Worden, Flusser, Dale, Converse and Reid; New York City and Rochester, N. Y., men will sail from New York on the Hopkins, Lawrence, Hatfield, Brooks, Humphries and J. K. Paulding.

The Philadelphia and Erie, Pa., contingents will depart from Philadelphia on the Osborne, Coghlan, Preston, Lamson and Dallas; Georgetown, D. C., aboard the Goff, and New Orleans reservists aboard the Rueben James, the Bainbridge from Charleston.

In conjunction with this cruise the Destroyers Allen and Fox will have Brooklyn, Baltimore and Washington reservists aboard from July 23 to August 6.

The Third Cruise

The third regular cruise, July 30 to August 13 will see contingents from New Haven, Conn., Perth Amboy, N. J., New Rochelle, N. Y., and Ossining, N. Y., sail from their home ports on the McFarland, J. K. Paulding, Childs and King, respectively; at Camden, N. J., outfit from Camden abroad the Sharkey, Toucey and Breck; Richmond and Norfolk reservists from Newport News on the Williamson and Barry; Atlanta reservists from Charleston, S. C., on the Reuben James and the Bainbridge, and contingents from Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Toledo, Indianapolis, Chicago and Columbus from Philadelphia aboard the Charles Ausburn, Osborne, Coghlan, Preston, Lamson and Bruce, respectively.

On the fourth cruise, August 13 to 27, the Fox and Allen, will take Baltimore, Washington and Whitestone Landing men aboard in Washington; Portland, Me., Fall River, New Bedford, Providence and Newport reservists will ship aboard the Reid, Worden, Flusser, Dale and Converse respectively, at their home ports; Hartford, New Brunswick, Bridgeport and Tompkinsville contingents aboard the McFarland, J. Thousands Of Dollars Damage As First Big Spring Storm Hits

(International News Service)

HANOVER, Pa., April 22—Property damage will mount to thousands of dollars in Hanover and vicinity from the first rain and electrical storm of the summer, which struck here last night, it was estimated today.

One child was injured and 15 buildings were damaged, including factories, churches and dwellings. Two inches of rain fell.

Helen Fehrman, four-year-old daughter of a farmer living two miles north of here, was injured when a tree was blown against the farmhouse and crashed through a window before which the child was standing.

A barn on the farm of Ruben Reittle, near here, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground, entailing a loss of several thousand dollars.

The roof of Christ church, five miles south of here, was blown off while a meeting was in progress. Lightning struck the rectory of the St. Vincent's Catholic church here. Roofs were torn from the Conewago Box Factory, the Newark Shoe Factory, the Hanover Cabinet Factory and the Buchen apartment building, all in Hanover. Stocks of goods in the factory building and household goods in the apartment building were greatly damaged by water.

Make Protest On Reading Plea For State Bus Rights

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 22.—When the applications of the Reading Transportation company for incorporation came before the public service commission for a hearing here today a formal protest was made by the Philadelphia Rural Transit company, a subsidiary of the P. R. T.

The protest was made by A. B. Miller, in behalf of the Philadelphia company for the purpose of protecting the bus rights of the company in Philadelphia and adjacent counties.

The Reading Transportation company, which is a subsidiary of the Reading Railroad company, wants to incorporate for the purpose of operating motor bus service in 24 counties of the state in which the Reading company now operates steam lines.

Former Governor Gifford Pinchot refused the application of the transportation company along with the application of the Pennsylvania General Transit company, a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania railroad, with the explanation that he feared the incorporation of the two large concerns might lead to a monopoly of Pennsylvania's highways.

The capitalization of the proposed transportation company would be a million dollars and A. T. Dice, president of the Reading company, would be head of the bus company.

A number of independent trolley and bus companies also have protested the granting of the charter to the transportation company.

U. S. Increases Border Patrols To Check Hooch

Flow Of Canadian Booze Into New York States Is On Increase

Additional Troopers To Be Added To Dry Force For Spring And Summer

By J. H. WHITNEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 22.—One of the greatest bootlegging campaigns ever known in the history of prohibition is being prepared by government officials and New York State police for this coming Summer.

The main cause of all this preparatory work in Uncle Sam's campaign to halt Canadian liquor from flowing across the border into this country, is the fact that on May first the entire province of Ontario joins the province of Quebec in the wet columns. After that date thirsty Canadians in Ontario can obtain liquor or beer.

A large number of commission stores will start operating and, as from Quebec, large quantities of Canadian liquor is certain to find its way into downstate New York.

Add New Troopers

The first move by officials to combat the liquor floods this Summer was the appointment of two score additional State Troopers to Troop B, stationed at Malone and spread along the international boundary section like a fan.

Captain Charles Broadfield, in command of Troop B, often called the "Black Horse" troop on the border, now places his personnel at 95 enlisted men with three officers. Additional officers will be needed, Captain Broadfield declares, and it is expected that the appointments will be made from the list of veteran non-coms in his troop.

While the State Police at Malone and other points adjacent to the border are being recruited to full "war" strength, the United States Customs and Immigration patrols are being enlarged.

Want Daring Men

Collector John C. Tulloch at Ogdensburg is known to be on the lookout for daring young men who fear neither guntoting bootleggers from downstate nor the blackjacks of "speak-easy" proprietors whom they try to entice with a "buy" now and then on the hunt for evidence.

Chief Rupert Nisbeth, in charge of all departments of the customs border patrol excepting the actual customs agents at ports of entry, is conducting a search for promising men to bolster up his ranks before the Ontario flood starts pouring across the St. Lawrence River and Lake Ontario.

Recently the government announced examination for customs agents "for duty along the Canadian border." This examination, it is said, brought forth a whole company of candidates, so lucrative have the opportunities of border agents become during the past few years. But still the sufficent number of agents has not been obtained and once more the call for recruits in the battle against booze has been sounded at Ogdensburg.

Thorson & Company To Receive Payments

Members of city council, in session today, concurred in the recommendation of City Engineer Frank Miller to pay Thorson & Co. a final sum of $694.27 for work in Fairfield avenue between Carlisle street and a point 126 feet west and $5,376.76 for paving Fairfield between Carlisle and Highland avenue, less $500, which will be paid when the contractors remedy defects, which the engineer claims exist. He claims part of the curb is out of line and there are depressions in the avenue.

Russia is now the largest continental customer for British textile machinery.

No Bills; Legislators Get Gold Medals from Admirers

Time was when representatives went to the Legislature with the idea of winning fame for themselves by pushing through as large a mass of legislation bearing their names as possible. But Frank Hallgren, of Holdrege, and George M. Storye, of Plainview, had a different idea. And the Lincoln Cosmopolitan Club presented them with gold medals because they didn't introduce a single bill into the Nebraska Legislature.

LINCOLN, Neb. (I-I-N Special).— Bills limiting movie kisses, bills prescribing how sundaes may be mixed, bills making it a crime to cuss a traffic cop, bills providing a new State anthem—all of these and many more pop up in every Legislature in the country.

It seems that as soon as the election returns are in, and sometimes even before, every representative starts thinking of things to legislate about. One expert recently calculated that if a policeman started to study all the laws he is expected to inforce he could never overtake the law-making machinery within the span of his life.

Representative Frank Hallgren, of Holdrege, and George M. Storey, of Plainview, have emerged from a session of the Nebraska Legislature without having introduced a single bill.

To commemorate the event, the Lincoln Cosmopolitan Club struck gold medals. Vernon D. Andrews, past president, with public ceremony, presented them to the legislators.

"And if fewer bills were introduced," he said, "legislators could give more careful consideration to the business before them.

Canst Thou Beat It?

Consider the editor! A child is born unto the wife of a merchant in the town. The physician getteth 10 plunks. The editor writeth a stick and a half and telleth the multitude that the child tippeth the beam at nine pounds. Yea, he lieth even as a centurion. And the proud father giveth him a Cremo.

Behold, the young one groweth up and graduateth. And the editor putteth into his paper a swell notice. Yea, a peach of a notice. He telleth of the wisdom of the young women and of her exceeding comeliness. Like unto the roses of Sharon is she and her gown is played up to beat the band. And the dressmaker getteth two score and four iron men. And the editor gets a note of thanks from the sweet girl graduate.

And the daughter goeth on a journey. And the editor throweth himself on the story of the farewell party. It runneth a column solid. And the fair one remembereth him from afar with a picture postal card that costeth six for a jitney.

Behold, she returneth, and the youth of the town fall down and worship. She picketh one and lo, she picketh a lemon. But the editor calleth him one of our promising young men and getteth away with it. And they send unto the editor a bid to the wedding, and behold the bids are fashioned in a far city.

Flowery and long is the wedding notice which the editor printeth. The minister getteth 10 bones. The groom standeth the editor off for a 12-months subscription.

All flesh is grass and in time the wife is gathered unto the soil. The minister getteth his bit. The editor printeth a death notice, two columns of obituary, three lodge notices, a cubit of poetry and a card of thanks. And he forgetteth to read proof on the head and the darned thing cometh out, "Gone to Her last Roasting Place."

And all that are akin to the deceased jumpeth on the editor with exceeding great jumps. And they pulleth out their ads and canceleth their subs, and they swing the hammer even unto the third and fourth generations.

Spring Projects Being Delayed

Actual Work On Improvements May Not Be Started Until June

Most of the city's important projects may not be started until June, according to councilmen, who said in council today that Miller, Pyle & Graham, printers, have not finished the printing of specifications under which all improvements will be made. However, City Engineer Miller reported that the printers have informed him copies can be secured yet this week after which the specifications will be advertised.

It is indicated that all of the projects will be advertised and outside contractors will place bids. It is said that firms from neighboring cities have requested information concerning projects planned here.

Council Discusses New Heat System

Councilmen today gathered in the city building and studied plans, procured by Councilman Tyler, which provides how a heating system can be installed in the city building. Tyler claims the present system is "dirty, expensive and unsatisfactory." He claims that council, if a majority decide to install a new system, can have it installed this summer.

Smith & McQuiston To Grade Street

City Engineer Miller today reported to members of council in regular session at council chambers, city building, that Smith & McQuiston, contractors, will start grading of Summit street immediately. The thoroughfare is in poor condition. The contract was let some time ago. The contractors have been doing work on the west side.

Davies Introduces Grading Ordinances

Councilman D. O. Davies introduced an ordinance before council in formal meeting at the city building this morning which provides for the grading of Hillcrest avenue between Delaware and Audley avenues. The bill was sent to committee for further consideration.

Mother-Love Sends Woman on Vain Across Country to Win Tots She Loves

NEW YORK (I-I-N Special)—The hold little children have on mothers' heartstrings drew Mrs. Isabelle Keyes Burch all the way across the country—in vain.

The couple were arrested in San Francisco on charges of violating the Mann act. Pending a hearing, they were released on bonds. Burch and his mother, Mrs. Marson, sued for divorce. Burch was awarded custody of the two children, Hadley and Marylin.

Then came Mrs. Burch back to New York to face the husband she had deserted, to face the friends who would snub her, to plead for her children. Her hopes were slim. Friends said that she would consent to any agreement that would let her have her boy and girl for part time.

She may marry Captain Marson after May 27, the date permitted under the divorce her husband obtained. Then she may renew her pleas to share the presence of her babies.

Mrs. Isabelle Keyes Burch returned to New York to fight for her children, Marylin (top) and Hadley, who were awarded to her husband after she eloped with Captain Arnaldi Marson (left) to San Francisco.

Prince Otto, Bismarck's Grandson, Starting On Diplomatic Career

(International News Service)

BERLIN, April 22.—Prince Otto von Bismark, grandson of the "Iron Chancellor" has started a diplomatic career, which, one day, may make it possible that he becomes the German Ambassador at Washington.

Prince Otto is thirty years old now. With dark-brown hair parted in the middle, and with huge horn spectacles he looks like an American college boy rather than a German prince. Also he has nothing of the stiffness of the old time German aristocrat about him and is regarded in Berlin a charming fellow. He is a bachelor and owns several thousand acres of estate. Also, he is said to be a good linguist and speaks French and English fluently.

Prince Otto has been to the United States two years ago, whence he brought home the most favorable impressions. He has an uncle living in America by the name of Charles Wilkens Short, who is the husband of his mother's sister.

Otto's political opponents the democrats and the socialists, are somewhat sarcastic about his appointment to the Foreign Office.

It is for the first time since thirty-five years that a scion of the Bismark family will join the diplomatic staff of the famous "Wilhemstrasse," where his grandfather, the Iron Chancellor was the undisputed ruler for several decades until he was dismissed by the Kaiser after a row, which stirred up the whole German nation and is still in the memory of the older generation.

Young Otto, who is already a member of the Reichstag for the German National Peoples Party, will be employed at the German Foreign Office for "internal service," but will, later on, pass an examination qualifying him for a diplomat's job abroad. He has been an attache for some time in the past, but never was among the "regulars."

A Stresemann Appointment

Otto's father, Prince Herbert von Bismark was state secretary of the Foreign Office under his father, but quitted the service simultaneously with his father in 1893, although the ex-kaiser tried to persuade him to stay, obviously to demonstrate to the German people that he did not want to break with the Bismark family altogether.

It is said that the appointment of Prince Otto is the result of personal efforts of the German Foreign Minister, Dr. Gustav Stresemann to further good relations between his own party and the German National Peoples Party, which only recently entered the Government Coalition. The Nationalists have been bitter enemies to Stresemann's foreign policy resulting in the Locarno Treaties and Germany's entrance into the League of Nations.

London Hotels To Increase Number Of Beds For Tourists

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 22.—Hotel business experts estimate that in the last eighteen months, London hotel bedroom accomodation has increased 27 1-2 percent.

Not only have several large new establishments sprung into existence, but many of the existing hotels have carried out big extensions and improvements.

Of the new places the most notable are the great trio of luxury hotels in the Mayfair area, the Park Lane, the Mayfair, and the Green Park. These three are veritable palaces, comparable in their equipment with any in the world.

And, like Mayfair, Bloomsbury is to have a big increase in its hotel accommodation. Bloomsbury is the district that mainly caters for tourists of limited means. Big hotels are springing up here all the time and the main principal is "five shillings $1.25—per bedroom per night." And at this, every room is furnished with every modern convenience.

So vast have been the additions to London's hotel accommodations in the past year that, even if last year's traffic is doubled, there should be no difficulty about finding good and cheap reservations.

Man Declared Dead, 17 Years Ago, Denies Undertaker Got Him

WINCHESTER, Va., April 22—Jonah E. Parker declared dead 17 years ago by court decree here walked into the clerk's office today to refute the record of his demise. He said he had been "all over the world in the last 25 years." Parker was legally declared dead when Mrs. Wesley Owens his sister moved to have the estate of her parents settled.

Pueblo Is Building Children's Theatre

(International News Service)

PUEBLO, Colo., April 22.—A children's theatre, with all stage equipment scaled down to child proportions, is being constructed in a local studio of dramatic art to accommodate the thespian instincts of the young.

The child's delight in participating in make-believe will be developed here into an art, under the direction of skilled supervisiors.

But the child actors will not be hampered by adult conventionalities in their exclusive theatre. No lofty wings or vast rostum will add terror to natural shyness as the youngsters make their entrances and play their parts. The audience will be restricted to thirty—and the age limit will be considerably less, the directors promise.

Bad Luck And Disease Killing Off Seri Indians, Once Strong Tribe

(International News Service)

NOGALES Ariz., April 22—Within the brief span of ten years misfortune and disease have laid their grip upon one of Mexico's strongest Indian tribes threatening absolute eradication and that within the next few years if conditions are not remedied for the tribe—the Seri Indians—who after passing through a memorable epidemic of influenza, is now in the grip of the white plague—tuberculosis.

From a band of 2,500 strong the tribe has now decreased to less than 1,000 and is now facing certain extinction as the terrible pall of tuberculosis takes hold of half of the tribe.

Conditions Terrible

This information is brought here by an American doctor who has just returned from Kino Bay and Tiburon Island where the Seri makes his reservation. This doctor declares living conditions to be "terrible" and the Indians living like animals without permanent shelter; half the time without food and at times half clad. He attributes the present tubercular plague to the 'flue epidemic of last year and the dilatory care given the tribe.'

This doctor says the trible is doomed unless the Mexican government takes immediate steps to remedy the present living conditions and place the Indians under medical care. This is a problem for the Mexican government as the Seri refuses to accept aid from Mexico fearing that treachery of years ago will be repeated.

For years the Seri has been the aborigine of the Americas. He has been branded as a cannibal but this reputation has been refuted. It is true that he is America's most backward race; eating his food uncooked, providing no homes and making no effort to support himself by tilling of the soil or through prowess of hunting.

Mexico's Nomad

He is Mexico's nomad and alike other vanished nomad races his end is in sight as inability to clothe and feed himself is rapidly undermining his natural ability worn down by years of fighting either Mexican troops or disease and plague.

Officials of Nogales, Sonora, Mexico interviewed on the subject say that everything possible has been done for the Seri but that his inherent distrust of all things Mexican makes him intractable. His aversion to governmental help is held out as a reversion to animal type. These officials say that within the past year the state government of Sonora has endeavored to erect schools for the Indians; establish schools and has set aside money for improvement of conditions among the Series. All this has been refused, according to the officials.

France Seeks Law To Save Treasures

(International News Service)

PARIS, April 22.—New and more stringent laws are being sought in France to prevent the rapid growth of "Elginism," a word used here to describe the fast-spreading exodus of the nation's treasures to other parts of the world, in most cases never to return.

French connoisseurs and others who appreciate the architectural beauties which make France one of the most beautiful countries in the world, are just waking up to the fact that a great many of these things are being taken Westwood, for the majority of shipments are to the United States. They are asking that laws concerning their removal be made more complete.

The government has the power to classify buildings and objects as historical monuments, thus preventing their exportation. But of recent years, it has been greatly handicapped by the lack of money and a number of treasures have been allowed to escape. One of these is the celebrated mediaeval cloister at Marciac, in the Gers department. Another was the 15th century chapel of Chasay d'Azergues, recently sold for the ridiculous sum of $25 and demolished stone by stone by a dealer in antiquites to be set up again in the United States.

The beautiful Chateau de la Bahi is still another example, from which the staircase and panelling have been removed. The famous sculptured beams of the Rue Jeanin at Dijon, the Court of the Grand Veneur at Evreux, the Convent of the Jacobins at Sens and the Chateau of Charentonnay (Cher) are others which might be multiplied many times.

A law specifically directed against "Elginism" has been introduced in the French parliament and will undoubtedly put an end to what many call "pure vandalism".

HAS QUINCE TREE MINUS PARASITES

DYBERRY, Pa., April 22—William H. Bullock of this borough claims to have discovered a method of raising quinces without danger from parasites.

By grafting quince scions to thorn apple trees, quince of superior flavor are produced and the destructive appletree borer which attacks quince trees as well as other parasites give the tree a wide berth, in addiion cattle and swine will not molest these trees.

Mr. Bullock who was a state orchardist for many years is credited with doing more than other naturalists in Northwestern Pennsylvania toward sucessfully fighting the tent caterpillar.

No 1927 Drop In Acreage Of Texas Cotton

Growers Report Normal Planting With Increase In Some Sections

Chamber Of Commerce Is Afraid Farmers May Get Disastrous Lesson

By T. J. O'CONNELL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 22.—Reports coming to the headquarters of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce would indicate that man's cupidity is hard to overcome. According to figures compiled by that regional organization, it would appear that there will be no lessening of the acreage planted to cotton this year, in the territory served by the chamber.

After the disastrous slump in cotton prices last fall, the general belief was that the cotton growers of the South would voluntarily curtail their acreage anywhere from 10 to 25 per cent and so minimize the danger of another crushing surplus. There were many suggestions made as to how best to effect this reduction, and crop diversification was hailed as the saviour of the farmer.

Many communities pledged themselves to crop diversification, in other words reducing the cotton acreage a certain percentage and utilizing the soil for the raising of other necessary crops.

See New Surplus

It was believed that the cotton farmer himself, sensing the critical state of affairs would show enough "hoss sense" to make an effort to reduce his acreage, thereby boosting the returns on the 1927 crop, eliminating the huge surplus for the following year, and thus place himself in a reasonably strong economic position.

Farmers in some localities may have done so, West Texas Chamber of Commerce officials declare, but they are inclined to believe that man's natural cupidity will again give the cotton farmer a lesson he is not likely to forget.

Reports show that normal cotton planting is proceeding now. Reliable advices from some sections show that an increase in Cotton acreage will be chalked up before the planting season is over.

The belief seems general over the cotton section, it would appear, that there will be a big increase in cotton acreage throughout the South this year. Hence, the farmers argue, there will be a big advance in cotton prices, and by slipping in a few extra acres the canny growers will reap a harvest.

May Reap Whirlwind

Charges have been made that in some sections meetings have been held in which prominent local agricultural leaders advised their neighbors to talk a lot about cotton acreage reduction," but to "let George do the reducing." These local authorities on the cotton problem are said to have advised planting 10 acres of more cotton than in previous years, and then reap the harvest.

It seems to be a case of sow now, chamber officials declare, but when the time comes to gather the crop they fear that many will reap the whirlwind.

This situation, if general, would indicate that the proponents of compulsory reduction in cotton acreage knew what they were talking about when they said the only way to control the situation was by enacting restrictive legislation. Another such year as last, they say, will most surely mean a concerted effort throughout the cotton states to radically cut the acreage — and do it by law.

Theatre Owner Pleads Nolle Contendere To Involuntary Manslaughter Charges

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 22.—The closing chapter in the famous Strand theatre disaster here on Sept. 22, 1922, today stood written into the record of the Allegheny county criminal court when Sol Selznich, former owner of the theatre, was released after pleading nolo contendere to charges of involuntary manslaughter.

More than a score of children crashed into the basement of the theatre when its walls collapsed, killing Madeline Kunkle, 8. Judgments amounting to thousands of dollars were entered against Selznich during nearly seven years of litigation following the disaster. In the criminal case growing out of the Kunkle death, Selznich was ordered to pay the costs.

Start Fight To Retain Circus

(International News Service)

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 22.—Connecticut shrugged shoulders when its vast textile mills began to close doors and move machinery southward, and Connecticut wished good luck to those who picked up great New Haven industries and took them to the middle west.

But Connecticut made loud protest when the circus decided to abandon Bridgeport as the site of its winter quarters, insisting that Connecticut without a circus is unthinkable.

Barnum and Bailey's outfit is going to Florida in 1928 unless Connecticut is strong enough to prevent its removal.

Albany Digs Up Ancient Pipes

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., April 22.—Wooden pipes made from logs which carried water to the sturdy old burghers of Albany back in 1800 have just been unearthed here.

These old pipes are twelve feet long with taper joint, a five inch bore and fifteen inches in diameter over all. They are unusually well preserved.

Water carried through these logs when Albany was young, came from the so-called old water works, located to the north of the city. These pipes are in striking contrasts to the ones which will be laid when Albany, in the near future, establishes a new water supply system some fifteen miles from the city at a cost of millions of dollars.

Cuyler Reynolds, city historian, today recalled the first action taken by the city to furnish an actual water supply back in 1794 and to do away with the public and private wells. Benjamin Prescott, a private citizen, received a grant from Patroon Stephen VanRensselaer to make use of the Maezlandt kill. Under Prescott's management a number of wooden logs were bored. That proved to be the start of Albany's water supply.

BOYS DENY THEY STOLE BICYCLE

Three young boys of the Graceland cemtery road, who were accused of having stolen the bicycle of John Frazone of the same district, and called in for investigation by the police, denied that they had stolen the bicycle, stating that they had had the bicycle for about five minutes and that it had been loaned to them by the owner and that they were using it in the presence of the owner.

One In Ten Chicago Millionaires Is Woman; Many Are In Business

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 22.—One-tenth of Chicago's millionaires are women, a perusal of income tax returns revealed.

Some of these extremely wealthy women, of which there are approximately one hundred, were born millionaires. Others were endowed wealth left by millionaires.

A few achieved millions by hard work, thriftyness and careful investments.

Heading the list is Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, who is said to have more millions than any other woman in the city, being heiress to a share of the riches of one of America's wealthiest men.

Sharing their husband's fortunes in addition to their own holdings have placed in the millionaire group Mrs. Julius Rosenwald, Mrs. Frank Stout, Mrs. James Simpson and Mrs. Fred A. Poor.

ROBERSON-SMITH PLAYERS COME WELL RECOMMENDED

When Charles Kranz decided to put stock in the Capitol theatre he made up his mind that only the very best company he could get would do. Several offers were received from stock managers all over the country. Companies could be booked that would enable the Capitol theatre to operate with a very low overhead expense. These offers were all rejected.

The cheap companies were not wanted at any price and when Mr. Kranz saw some of the high priced ones he decided that they were not good enough. A friend told him of the Al Smith Players in Pittsburgh. They were operating the most successful stock company that Pittsburgh ever had. They were selling every seat at every performance. Mr. Kranz went over to Pittsburgh and saw the company. He then went to Erie, Pa., and saw the Smith Company there at the Colonial theatre. They have been there in the same theatre for nearly two years. He was delighted with both companies but it was a big gamble to bring such expensive companies to New Castle.

Then he went to Lancaster, Pa., where Mr. Smith and Mr. Roberson, his partner operate a stock company in the Fulton theatre. Mr. Kranz was unable to get a seat and had to stand up throughout the entire performance. Lancaster is only a trifle larger in population than New Castle. That decided Mr. Kranz. If all the Roberson-Smith Companies were as good as the three he had seen and they were all doing practically capacity business at every performance then why couldn't New Castle support one of their units. He had a long talk with Mr. Roberson and Mr. Smith and it was finally decided that no expense was to be spared in getting together as fine a stock company as any one could find in America. It was decided to play only the very latest and best Broadway successes.

The best scenery builders and painters in the country were engaged.

The result will be shown at the Capitol commencing Monday night, May 2nd, and if hard work and lavish expenditure of money combined with the experience and knowledge of the biggest stock producers in the country mean anything New Castle will have a stock company of which she can be justly proud and one that ranks with any city in the country.

In addition to the cities mentioned Roberson-Smith operate companies in Duluth, Minn., at the Orpheum theatre; Chicago, Ill., at the Logan Square theatre; Madison, Wis., at the Orpheum theater; Peoria, Ill., at the Orpheum theatre; Altoona, Pa., at the Michler theatre. A new company opens April 26th at the Orpheum theatre in Reading, Pa., and another May 16th, Allentown, Pa. The same high standard of production and general management will be maintained here as at the other cities where Roberson-Smith operate.

Some of the plays to be produced here at an early date will be "Rain," "Laff That Off," "The Patsy," "What Price Glory," "Lightin'," "Why Men Leave Home," "Up In Mabel's Room," "The Butter and Egg Man," "Cradle Snatchers" and "White Cargo".

CITY-WIDE PARTICIPATION

Invited and Urged In

New Castle's Expansion Movement

YOU are invited to take part in the development of the project program for New Castle tentatively outlined below, and intended to cover the period from May 1, 1927, to May 1, 1928. When approved and adopted by the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, it will constitute the definite and specific forward steps, in launching New Castle's Expansion Movement.

The "executive" and "policies and projects" committees, are highly desirous of the expressions of the entire citizenship.

The list of suggested projects herein have been submitted by the policies and projects committee, augmented by additional suggestions from more than three hundred business and professional men.

Owing to the large number of projects suggested, it is obviously necessary to eliminate a number of them, as their fulfillment would require too great an expenditure.

It is believed that the composite views of the citizens will enable the committee to single out the more important and particularly those which should have immediate attention. You are therefore asked to number in the order of their importance, the projects as you believe they should be undertaken, and to add any further suugestions you may have.

The projects determined upon will be vigorously prosecuted by the entire and, necessarily greatly expended, Chamber of Commerce.

Your replies will be treated in confidence and you are asked to express yourself freely.

SUGGESTED PROJECTS FOR NEW CASTLE

MAY 1, 1927 -- May 1, 1928

TO THE CITIZENS OF NEW CASTLE AND MEMBERS OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE:

In making plans for the operation of your Chamber of Commerce for the year 1927-28 (May 1 to May 1), the Board of Directors is confronted with the necessity of including among these plans some definite forward looking steps. It is obviously necessary to carry on the general functions of the Chamber, a large part of which is routine and which, as a whole, have the general effect of maintaining the progress which has characterized the development in the past. It is the conviction of the Board of Directors, however, that this year is one of crucial importance in the development of New Castle and that the plans of our city building organization should include in addition to these regular and usual functions some definite forward steps which will make this year one of extensive and rapid development. The opportunities for such a definite step forward are evident to everyone and the necessity is that this organization rise fully to the opportunities that present themselves.

In accordance with this conviction, a committee upon Policies and Projects was appointed from among the members of the Chamber and was asked to formulate the projects which, in its opinion, would produce the greatest results for the year 1927-28. As a result of several meetings a number of such projects were proposed. These projects which have been recommended, if carried out fully, would make 1927-28 a year of by far the most impressive growth of New Castle's history.

Accordingly, this committee solicits your opinion as to the most important of these projects.

Therefore, these proposed projects are herewith submitted to you with the request that you examine them carefully, weigh them in view of the conditions as you understand them and express your opinion of their relative importance. The order in which these projects are submitted is determined alphabetically and has no reference to the rank in importance given them by the Committee.

Educator Gives Strong Talk To Parent-Teachers

John Holbrook Gives Straight Facts To Parents On "Adolescence"

Nomination Committee Appointed To Prepare Ballot For Next Year's Officers

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., April 22.—One of the strongest talks ever given before an Ellwood City audience, was presented last night by John Holbrook, head of the Child Guidance Department at Harrisburg.

There were no young people permitted at the meeting and Mr. Holbrook had free rein to go ahead and state the bald facts concerning the "Adolescence of the Child." Among his first remarks he recommended that every parent read "The Adolescent Girl," by Richman. The waywardness of many children can be traced back to the wrong kind of discipline and wrong kind of love-life in the home. One of the most terrible phases of early childhood is the "Teasing" period. Mr. Holbrook pointed out that the word teasing is derived from torture, and that the habit itself is no less vicious, and should be corrected immediately. The parents themselves came in for some criticism when the speaker remarked that the children of today have the "howl and get it" habit while the parents possess the "howl and give it" habit, which fact is too true to be funny.

In speaking of marriage, Mr. Holbrook quoted statistics which stated that to every six marriages, there was one divorce in this country. Many a child who is in a bad state of nerves is indebted to his parents for this condition. Mr. Holbrook stated emphatically that the education of the emotions has only just begun to be studied, but will in time, he hopes, form an important part of a child's education. Three bad influences on children of today are: Money, booze and divorce. Also cheap sex literature which is circulated about is a bad enemy to the adolescent child.

Commends Scout Training

The speaker commended the Boy and Girl Scout organizations in glowing terms for the good influence they weild on the adolescent boy and girl of America. One of the important attributes of the child's character is the art of mixing with other people, and Mr. Holbrook feels that the Scout organizations are aiding this cause to a great extent.

During the business meeting which preceded the lecture a nominating committee was appointed to select nominees for the officers of the Parent-Teachers association next year.

A voluntary offering was taken up at last night's meeting which will be turned over to the Hospital fund, which was pledged by the association.

Discuss Kindergarten

An open discussion of the feasibility of having a public Kindergarten in Ellwood City was conducted, and most of the members feel that such an institution should be embodied in the public schools. However, no definite action will be taken on the project until after the May meeting of the Board of Education.

A committee was also appointed to study the conditions of the relations of parents to teachers in schools, and to try to effect some means of co-operation which will do away with a great deal of night work on the part of many of the pupils.

The musical portion of the evening's program was a solo in English and then in German "The Rosemary" by Miss Dorothy Kimes, and a piano solo by Miss Grace White.

MANCHESTER, England, April 22.—The United States is definitely opposed to any formal Anglo-American alliance, Ambassador Alanson B. Houghton declared here today in a speech before the Manchester Chamber of Commerce.

The ambassador, who was believed to be speaking under instructions from Washington, declared that a formal Anglo-American alliance would turn the rest of the world against the United States and Great Britain and would result in another world war.

Praise For Scouts In Tree Planting

Pittsburgh Man Writes To Executive Calahan About 2,000 Trees Planted

J. Lee Calahan, Scout Executive of Lawrence County is in receipt of a letter of praise from K. J. Steiner of Pittsburgh, in which he comments on the trees planted by the local boy scouts on land at Kennedy's Mills on April 9, at which time 2,000 trees were planted.

Mr. Steiner's letter was as follows.

My Dear Mr. Calahan:

I am in receipt of your favor of the 18th inst referring to the tree planting by the Scouts on our lands at Kennedy's Mills on April 9th.

I was very much interested in your report of the operation and was surprised that you succeeded in accomplishing the planting on that date as we had hard rains here most all that day. I figured Lawrence County would be just as wet and that there would be no planting undertaken until later.

It is gratifying to learn that you considered the site selected to be ideal for the purpose, and I have no doubts whatsoever that the planting as done by the Scouts was well and properly performed.

The setting out of 2,000 small trees is no small task and it is with no little appreciation that I consider the effort and enthusiasm in the "Boys" that made it an accomplished fact. To right minded and thinking individuals the planting of trees should be a pleasure and a duty. We are today beneficiaries of the work in this direction by Nature in the past, and to some slight extent to our forebears, and too few of us realize our debt when we levy on the wood supply or regale ourselves with fruit. Anything that tends to replace or build up these vanishing sources of supply, these quiet modifiers of our climate and regenerators of our precious pure air is altogether worthy and should be encouraged. China is today a startling example of a land without forests, most all of them having been cut down and used for fuel. I think our national conscience in this direction has been stirred before it was too late, but there remains much work to be done before we can safely say the situation is well in hand and reforestation on a regular and established basis.

I note with some misgivings your enclosure of the bill for the lunch consumed by the Boys. Counting yourself as one, I would consider that a total expense of $11.56 for 43 persons, or less than 27 cents per person was an extremely moderate amount per "appetite" under the conditions. I certainly hope that it sufficed and that none of the Boys had to pull up their belts by reason of any lack. I am sending my check to your order for the amount herewith, together with my thanks for your co-operation in this matter.

I note with pleasure your offer to extend the planting next year, also your kind invitation to visit the camp this year, both of which I hope to be able to avail myself of, and with best wishes I remain,

Yours very truly,
K. J. STEINER.

Appeal To Davis In Coal Strike

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 22.—Charging that the Pittsburgh Coal company, leader of the non-union forces in the bituminous coal suspension in Western Pennsylvania, is importing Mexican labor into this district for strike breaking purposes in violation of the United States immigration laws, Philip Murray, international vice president of the miners' union, today sent a telegram to Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, asking Davis to make an investigation.

Car Runs Wild Near Atlantic Ave.

W. E. Walker of Atlantic avenue, had his automobile parked on an alley above Atlantic avenue Thursday, when the brakes let go and the car came down the alley gaining momentum as it sped along. Reaching Atlantic avenue, it dashed across that street and into the fence in front of the home of Gene Buckley at 109 Atlantic avenue. It broke down the fence and a small tree in front of the Buckley property. The fence is all that prevented the machine from crashing into the Buckley home.

The machine was not badly damaged. According to reports made, the engine of the machine was running, when the brakes let go, Mr. Walker being engaged for the moment in his garage.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

MR. FOX IS FOILED

Peter caught the note of fear in Chipmunk's cry and without turning to see how close behind him was the enemy, Cutie Fox, he sped over the ground at a speed that ever after when he thought of it astonished him. Gasping for breath, but safe, he dashed headlong into the hole in the ground through which he had seen Chipmunk's bushy red tail disappearing.

Lucky for Peter that he had heard and heeded the warning of the little red elf. Lucky for him that he had not stopped to look behind him. Entering the burrow, head first, Peter stumbled and fell and before he could pick himself up the faint light that there had been in that underground passage went out. Something was blocking up the entrance—something that snapped and gritted its teeth and barked:

"Think you are smart, don't you, you miserable little nut-cracker. But it will take someone more clever than any member of the Squirrel family that I've met yet to outwit me for long. You can't fool me. I know one trick that is worth all of yours. I'll stay right here until you come out. And if you don't come out pretty soon, I shall dig you out. Woof, woof! I can't be happy until I have you!"

Scratch! Plump! Scratch! Sharp claws tore up the hard earth and every now and then small stones spattered against its crusty surface with a flop! It was all very terrifying to Peter and at last he could keep quiet no longer.

"Chipmunk, oh Chipmunk, where are you?" called he at the top of his lungs. I followed you in but I can't see where you've gone! Help me quickly or I am lost. Cutie Fox is at the door!"

"A very good place for him to be", cried a shrill, chattering voice no other than Chipmunk's own. "Let him stay at the door. He can do us no harm!"

"But you don't understand, Chipmunk. Cutie Fox is digging his way into your house, can't you hear him?" Peter was frantic with fear. But in spite of the scratching and snapping that was going on just outside his very door, Chipmunk snickered.

"You mean he is trying to dig his way in, Boy. He can't, though, and he knows it as well as I do. No Fox, however cunning, was ever known to catch a Squirrel after the Squirrel had once reached his burrow underground. Now if I was out there in the open there would be little hope for me unless I could find a hole large enough for me to crawl into but too small for Old Cutie to squeeze his body in. If I had to run cross fields for my life I would lose it. Fast as I could go—and I can travel some, if I do say it myself—Cutie Fox would travel faster, and finally as I was gasping for breath and unable to go another leg's length, Cutie Fox would be upon me with a leap and would crush my back with a blow. Poor Mrs. Tamias would have to bring up our children without a father's care.

JACK DEMPSEY'S SILENCE WORRIES "BILLY" GIBSON

Has Not Outlined Future Ring Plans

Unless He Soon Decides, He Will Be "Read Out Of Party", Gibson Says

RICKARD EXPECTED IN NEW YORK TODAY

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, April 22 — Jack Dempsey, once the big hook and eye man—a hook to the jaw and an eye to business—must declare himself on the heavyweight situation within a period of two weeks or suffer the possible consequence of being read out of the party, according to the views of Billy Gibson, freely aired today.

William didn't think Dempsey was doing right by our Nell and said as much or even more. Like an old fashioned father of an old fashioned girl, he wants to know whether Jack's intentions are strictly honorable so to speak.

"Dempsey must know, by this time, whether he can fight or not," quoth Gib in a few, well chosen words, not in excess of ten thousand. "Why doesn't he declare himself, one way or the other? Frankly, I'm beginning to suspect that he doesn't intend to try a come back.

"Why, do you know that Rickard must have spent $500 in telegrams and long distance calls to Dempsey since the first of the year? I don't blame him. He has to know soon what his line-up of fighters is going to be and make his plans accordingly. If Paulino can't fight Delaney, then it must be Dempsey or the winner of the Sharkey-Maloney fight but those sort of things can't be done over night.

Await Word From Tex

They are big fights and have to be prepared for months in advance. The way I see it, if Dempsey doesn't come out in the clear in a couple of weeks, Richard simply will have to forget him."

As far as that crack goes, the writer suspects that it may be a case of forgive but never forget. They need Dempsey for that $1,-800,000 harvest they expect to reap again this fall. However, William professes to think otherwise. He says heavyweight championship fights have become like the world series. Everyone goes no matter who is in there. This fortunately is one of those theories that you believe at your own risk.

Anyhow, Rickard himself will reach town before the passing of another day and perhaps he will have something to add to the general hilarity, besides the installment of $100,000 he owes Tunney. He will decide, among other things, whether the Madison Square Garden Corporation will go to court about the Boxing Commission's edict on the Paulino-Delaney fight and, if he does, the bet is right on the line that Dempsey is all washed up. Rickard would have little use for Delaney, except in a light heavyweight title fight, if Dempsey and Paulino were ready to go.

The impression here is that a Dempsey representative has seen Rickard in the south during the promoter's vacation. A reasonable line on what was said, if anything, may be gained by Rickard's action or inaction on the Paulino-Delaney situation upon his return.

Claims Are "Squared"

Meantime, the Sharkey-Maloney matter has been clarified to some extent by the withdrawal of Tom Goodwin, Boston promoter, from the scene. His claim on Maloney apparently was squared yesterday, leaving Walter Taylor, Cleveland man, as the main impediments confronting the May 19 date. It seems that Jim the Penman signed with Walter, too.

However, this is another situation that is important or otherwise, according to Dempsey's whim. If Jack has assured Rickard of his return to the ring this summer, the promoter will not be greatly concerned about anything or anybody.

"Most fighters I've seen lately know more about the double cross than they do the right one."

New Castle Club May Land Pitcher From Toledo Club

New Castle O. & P. Team To Stage Practice Saturday Afternoon

The New Castle club of the O. & P. league may get one of the Toledo American Association cast-off pitchers said Carm Sacco, local business manager today.

Sacco received a wire from Paul McCullough yesterday saying that he was sending a rookie hurler here for the season. The youngster's name is not known, but he was tried out by the Toledo Mudhens this year and found to need more seasoning. He will get plenty of work here.

The locals are all ready for the first practice session of the year here Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Morris Marshall a former pitcher with the American Marines and a New Castle boy is to be given a tryout with the New Castle team. The youngster is said to have plenty of stuff and he will be given a thorough chance to make good.

TUNNEY EXPECTS $750,000 PURSE FOR TITLE BOUT

NEW YORK, April 22.—Gene Tunney expects to get for his first defense of the world's heavyweight championship in September at least as much as the $750,000 Jack Dempsey is understood to have received in their title bout last year.

Tunney, just back from a transcontinental vaudeville tour, disclosed that by agreeing to fight the winner of Tex Rickard's elimination tournament he will receive more than he would otherwise. "Rickard is making big money out of the elimination bouts," Tunney said.

"It makes no difference to me who the challenger is," the champion said.

Kremer Pitches Masterful Game And Features With Homer

GRANTHAM'S SINGLE BRINGS DECIDING RUN

PITTSBURGH, April 22.—The Pirates captured their first home game of the season from Cincinnati, 3-2, before 33,439 fans yesterday afternoon, Ray Kremer allowing only four hits while Rixey was found for nine hits.

Cincinnati got away to a good start in the first when Zitzman walked, Dressen sacrificed and Pipp scored Zitzman with a double to center. Bressler singled to center, scoring Pipp, but the Reds were retired when Kelly hit into a double play.

Pittsburgh retaliated in the third when Smith started the drive with a single to right and Kremer poled a home run to left scoring Smith. With the two hits producing the two runs, sufficient to deadlock the score, the Pirates were retired.

The decisive run was scored in the fifth after Rhyne singled to center and Smith advanced him with a sacrifice. Kremer lined out, Rhyne going to third and scoring on Grantham's single to right. Thus two hits, punches needed to win, were delivered.

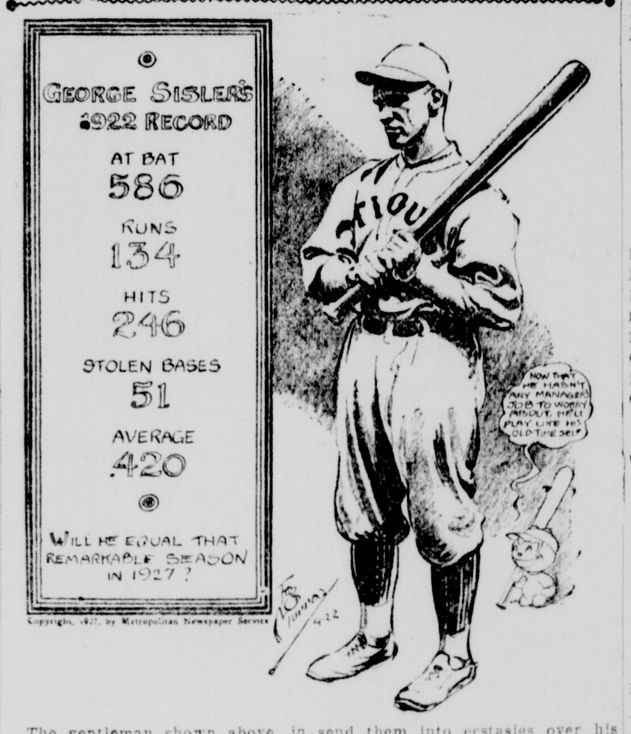
A Page From His Past — By Feg Murray



The gentleman shown above, in the act of solemnly contemplating a page from his past, is George Sisler, who, as all of the world that follows baseball knows, fell into a terrible slump last year and was accompanied down by the team which he could not manage, the St. Louis Browns. Poor George, due to worry over the standing of his club, and his inability to be a hard-boiled manager, slipped in his batting form from .345 to .289, while his team dropped from third place in 1925 to seventh in 1926.

There is no doubt in anyone's mind about the fact that the George Sisler of 1927 is a vastly changed player from the Sisler of a year ago. Gone is the tired look around the eyes, the tell-tale wrinkles in his forehead, the haggard, worried expression that made his friends exclaim so often last season, "George, you look 10 years older!"

It is hoped, but it is a rather forlorn hope, that the Sisler of 1922 will come back again to startle the fans with his marvelous fielding, send them into ecstasies over his timely batting, and bring them to their feet with his speed and daring on the base-paths. The records that Sisler set in 1922, when he easily won the American League reward as its most valuable player, have been equaled or bettered by very few modern players.

In Cobb's best year, 1911, he batted .00017 points less than Sisler in 1922, but scored 13 more runs, made more hits, and stole 32 more bases. Tris Speaker's best all-round season was in 1912, when he tallied 136 times, made 222 hits, stole 52 bases and batted .383. In Ruth's greatest year, 1921, his record shows 177 runs, 204 hits, 17 stolen bases, and an average of .378. Hornsby topped Sisler's batting average in 1924, when he hit .424, but his other marks were well below his rival from the Mound City. In 1922, Sisler's great year, Hornsby scored seven more runs and made four more hits, but stole only a third as many bases and batted 19 points less.

Kremer Pitches Excellent Game

Alex Ferguson Tames Giants; Allows But Four Hits As Phils Win

NEW YORK YANKS RESUME STRIDE

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 22.—Ray Kremer, ace of the Pirates' pitching staff, looms today as Pittsburgh's one best bet to win the National League pennant. In beating the Reds yesterday, 3 to 2, the crack right-hander hung up his third straight victory of the season and enabled the Bucs to increase their big lead over the other contenders.

Kremer held the Reds to four hits, and after the first inning he made the ball do everything except recite poetry. In addition he won his own game with a home run off Eppa Alpha Cmega Rixey, and the Reds took a firmer grip on eighth place.

The day was replete with good pitching. Bob Smith held Brooklyn to two hits, Alex Ferguson limited the Giants to four hits and Murray and Braxton of the Senators let the Red Sox down with four bingles.

The Yankees, however, broke out into a rush of extra base hits at the expense of Gray and Rommel and slaughtered the Athletics, 13 to 6, gaining a clear title to first place. A homer by Lou Gehrig with two on put the game on ice, and Lazzeri later duplicated the feat for good measure.

Gehrig now leads the American League circuit clouters with three homers, and Cy Williams tops the National League with four. Homers by Williams and Wrightstone cooked the Giants' hash yesterday, 4 to 2. The Giants got no hits off Alex Ferguson after the second inning and dropped from second place to fifth, while the Phils climbed to third.

Hornsby as Prophet

According to the deductions of Rogers Hornsby, the noted stock broker, the Giants are due to win 14 straight games. In the flush of the Giants' first victory on the opening day of the season, Hornsby predicted that the club would win 18 out of the next 22 games. Therefore the Giants must now cop 14 straight in order to uphold Mr. Hornsby's reputation as a prophet.

The Brooklyn Dodgers returned to normalcy and lost to the Braves, 3 to 0. Bob Smith yielded only two hits, one of them being of the illegitimate variety.

John Tobin clouted a homer with the bases full against Washington, but the Red Sox played dead during the remaining eight frames and lost, 7 to 4. Wingfield was no puzzle to the Nats.

Rain provided a vacation for the Indians, White Sox, Browns, Tigers, Cubs and Cardinals.

Energy Independents Will Meet Tonight

To Hold Practice Game; Manager Whitman Hopes For Fine Team

T. B. Whitman, manager of the Energy Independents, calls an important meeting of his players for this evening at 6 p. m. on the Energy grounds.

At the meeting a practice game will be held in order to get the pep of last year's season back into the boys playing.

Wins Again

Clarence de Mar, thirty-eight-year-old typesetter, crosses the line to win the annual Hopkinton to Boston Marathon for the fifth time, establishing himself as the greatest endurance runner of the nation. His time: 2 hours, 40 minutes, 22 1-5 seconds.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

I admit that the baseball barons virtually eliminated the old 25-cent bleacher seats years ago and that the coming of concrete fences was a mean blow at the knothole gang.

But it must be said in defense of the powers that be in the diamond game that they have not tried to practice the holdup tactics and hokum of the prize fight impresarios.

One wonders just who is crazy in the fight game and how when the matter of comparative admission prices for ring and diamond contests are weighed.

The fan fortunate enough to be within travel distance of a given game can see Babe Ruth, mightiest of swatters; Ty Cobb, superman of the game; Eddie Collins, writer of history at second base, and a galaxy of other stars of lesser magnitude on the very same diamond, in the very same contest on the very same afternoon—for his transportation and a couple of dollars—including soft drink and peanut overhead.

To see a couple of ham and egg fighters, highly press agented, fight it out for the distinction of being the best of the two men in the ring that day fight fans are asked to pay and do pay as high as $25 a seat. The lowest price is usually $5. The price of a reserved seat to a major league ball games goes in taxi hire to the arena.

* * *

The average run-of-the-mine fight in the average town costs the craziest customer $5 and the $1 and $2 tickets are for the seats behind the posts.

* * *

The admission to the average championship golf tourney or match runs much higher than the gate price at the ball park and the customer has the pleasure of hoofing it from three to five miles to get his money's worth.

* * *

Both golf and tennis are "playing" games. The ultimate in pleasure to the devotee in either game is in the actual playing. This entails an expenditure for equipment, etc. Baseball, as the public takes it, is played for the amusement and pleasure of the fan without his participation.

* * *

For this last reason and the fact that it is the one sport still within the reach of the every-day man's pocketbook, it seems destined to remain the "national game." This, despite the inroads of football.

The growth of that sport will be retarded until the men behind the throne realize that the constantly growing number of giant stadiums must be utilized more to promote the popularity of the game than to fill the coffers of the athletic departments.

English Team Will Compete In Penn. Athletic Events

PHILADELPHIA, April 22.—Lord David Burghley and his four teammates from Cambridge University, England, who will compete in the 33rd Annual University of Pennsylvania Relay races, will arrive in time to work out on Franklin Field to get rid of their sea legs and tune up for the many races April 29 and 30. The Englishmen will compete in four relay events while individual members will face the cream of American track athletics in various special events.

Lord Burghley will defend his 400-meter hurdle championship which he won in 1925 from Gibson, Fordham University star and last year's title holder. Burghley won the event in 54 4-5 seconds, one second behind the world's record held by A. Deech, famed Notre Dame hurdler. At that time the English nobleman was only 19 years of age. Since that time he has displayed his brilliance on the cinder paths of France, Sweden, Hungary, Ireland and Norway, becoming one of the best known International athletics in the world. The two years of experience on various tracks has made Lord Burghley a speedier hurdler and he is expected to eclipse the old record.

His Lordship also will compete in the 120-yard special hurdle race which will be run on the grass. He will face such stars as Cooper, Michigan; Howell, Princeton; Wilson, Missouri; Franks, Pennsylvania and Wesleyan and Buskin, Albama Poly.

Princeton, Penn State and several other universities will have entrants in the shuttle hurdle relay race which, Lord Burghley and his teammates, G. C. Weightman-Smith, T. C. Livingstone-Learmouth and H. P. Bowler, hope to win. The same four athletics will also compete in the quarter and half mile relay races. The first will be held Friday and the second on Saturday, April 30.

HALL of FAME

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

Nominating THOMAS CONNOLLY

Because, with the world full of soft jobs (looking at them from whatever job we may have) Thomas selected umpiring.

Because 34 years at the job haven't changed his mind relative to the facination of the job.

Because 33 of those years he has spent in the major leagues.

Stone Marks Grave Of New England 49er

Site Is Believed To Be Only One Bearing Name Of Any Gold Seeker

Out on the prairie in Gage county, Neb., a few yards from the old Oregon trail, there is a single grave marked with a rough granite boulder from New England. In the grave is buried George Winslow, father of Henry O. Winslow, of Meriden. Winslow was buried June 8, 1849, seventy-eight years ago. He was on his way to the newly discovered California gold fields when he died of cholera and was buried beside the road, says the Hartford Currant.

So far as known, George Winslow's grave is the only identified grave of the thousands and tens of thousands of those who died on the great overland trail during the rush to the lands of gold in the days of '49. The stone stands only a few yards from where passed the hundreds of thousands of covered wagons, bull teams, etc., of the mightiest trek the North American Continent, and probably the entire world, ever saw. So tremendous was this caravan that the deep ruts made by the wheels are still to be seen in some places where they have been spared by the plow. Those who were so unfortunate as to die on the trek were usually buried in the road and the caravans passed over the grave to keep Indians and wolves from finding the spot. But George Winslow's grave was marked with a little red sandstone marker upon which his name, town and age were rudely carved. The stone was secured from a nearby ledge of stone.

German Women Take To Silk Stockings

(International News Service)

BOSTON, April 22.—The women of Germany have discarded cotton hosiery and have adopted the silk stocking to a large extent according to Wilhelm Oppenheim of Chemnitz, Germany, one of a group of German textile manufacturers who have been touring the United States.

So marked has been the swing from cotton to silk in hosiery that manufacturers of cotton stockings in Germany are facing the same problem that almost ruined some American manufacturers a few years ago, Mr. Oppenheim declared. Scores of manufacturers have suddenly found themselves with large inventories of cotton stockings and machinery useful only for cotton manufacturing.

The silk hosiery fad has not reached its peak in Germany as yet because the German women are not able to afford the high prices demanded for them. However, those who can are buying artificial silk hosiery rather than remain content with the long-worn cotton stocking.

The German manufacturers well realize the futility of continuing an extensive production of cotton stockings, Arnold Marum, one of the visiting group declared.

... An oil with the smoothest, toughest lubricating film ever attained in motor oil manufacture.

The long-lived quietness and the full-powered performance of your motor give you the proof.

It is one of the biggest forward steps in the history of motor lubricants!

It does not evaporate appreciably under high motor heat. . . . It is actually heat-tempered, by an additional slow-"curing" process, to withstand searing temperatures.

Have your crankcase drained and refilled with this new Atlantic Motor Oil, and you'll sense a thoroughness in lubrication such as you've never before experienced in all your motoring days.

Free crankcase service most everywhere. Atlantic Medium is the correct oil for most cars and trucks. Dealer's chart tells when a heavier Atlantic grade should be used.

Castle Built By Ants Attains 10-Foot Height

Numerous Openings And Canals Lead To Cellar Where Little Insects Dwell

What are believed to be the world's largest ant hills are the homes constructed by the termites, or white ants. In Ceylon and Abyssinia these "skyscraper" dwellings often reach a height of ten or twelve feet.

The hills are composed of tiny pieces of hardened earth. They are pierced by numerous openings and canals connecting with the underground abode where most of the industrious constructors live. Seen from a distance, a group of these hills looks very much like the huts of a negro village.

The termites, which have a social organization superior to that of the bees, always live in large communities. The homes they build show considerable diversity of form, varying according to the species building them.

In each mound or ant hill you will find the three distinct classes of inhabitants that make up every termite community. One of these classes has for its sole mission in life the reproduction of the species. It includes the males, that live only a few days, and the female, or queen of the colony, who hides herself in the hill and never ceases to lay eggs.

The remaining divisions of the population are soldiers and workers, which are neither male nor female.—Exchange.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

HUTS AND DUGOUTS BUILT BY UNION SOLDIERS AT CORINTH.

EARLY IN OCTOBER, 1862, THE UNITED CONFEDERATE ARMIES OF VAN DORN AND PRICE MENACED CORINTH, MISSISSIPPI. GEN. ROSECRANS, COMMANDING THE UNION FORCES AT THAT PLACE, CALLED IN HIS OUTPOSTS FROM THE SURROUNDING COUNTRY AND MADE HURRIED PREPARATIONS FOR DEFENSE.

ON OCT. 3RD THE ATTACK CAME. CHARGING FIERCELY, THE CONFEDERATES FORCED THE DEFENDERS TO FALL BACK UNTIL WHEN NIGHT CAME THE UNION TROOPS WERE AT BAY WITHIN THE INNER RING OF ENTRENCHMENTS. DURING THE NIGHT BOTH ARMIES PREPARED FOR A RENEWAL OF HOSTILITIES.

COL. RODGERS LEADING THE CHARGE OF THE 2ND TEXAS SHARPSHOOTERS ON FORT ROBINETT AT CORINTH-OCT 4 1862.

THE NEXT DAY THE CONFEDERATE INFANTRY ADVANCED, CAPTURED FORT POWELL AND THREATENED FORT ROBINETT. ROSECRANS RALLIED HIS MEN AND GAVE THE ORDER FOR A GENERAL CHARGE. THE TIDE OF BATTLE NOW TURNED AND AFTER A TERRIFIC HAND-TO-HAND FIGHT THE SOUTHERN TROOPS GAVE WAY AND RETIRED FROM THE FIELD.

SCENE OF FIGHTING IN NORTHEASTERN MISSISSIPPI.

VAN DORN'S ARMY RETREATED, BUT WAS INTERCEPTED ON OCT. 6TH BY ANOTHER UNION ARMY (UNDER ORD), WHICH GRANT HAD SENT TO ATTACK THE CONFEDERATES IN THE REAR. AFTER A DESPERATE ENCOUNTER, VAN DORN CONTINUED TO RETREAT TOWARD THE TALLAHATCHIE RIVER.

M., two contiguous pieces of land situated in Wilmington Township, near Volant, in Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, separately bounded and described as follows:

First Piece—Beginning at the northwest corner, thence eastward along the south line of lands of Valentine Hochstetler and lands of Hiram J. Collins to the Neshannock creek or lands of Carr; thence in a southwesterly direction along said creek or lands of Carr to a point opposite the middle of the underground crossing where the old state road crosses under the railroad; thence through the middle of said underground crossing and along a stream which extends along the second piece hereinafter described westward and northwestward by a somewhat irregular course to lands of Bert Hyberger; thence northward along the lands of Bert Hyberger, to the place of beginning containing about 100 acres, having erected thereon the house and barn with other farm buildings.

Second Piece—On the east by a small stream separating same from the first piece above described; on the west by lands of Bert Hyberger, Charles W. The north-east corner of this land is opposite the middle of the underground crossing where the old state road crosses under the railroad, and the stream mentioned above as the eastern boundry passes through said underground crossing and the line extends westward and northwestward along said stream by a somewhat irregular course to the lands of Bert Hyberger. Same is under lease for sand, etc., and the purchaser will also get the royalties.

Said pieces of land will be sold separately or combined as I may deem best, but the first piece will be offered first.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 22.—With the exception of the railroad stocks and a few of the specialities, the market displayed a reactionary tone at the beginning of trading today. A fresh outburst of speculative selling of the independent oil stocks resulted in sharp declines in this section of the market, while heavy profit-taking held up the spectacular forward movements of General Motors, and others.

Failure of the Reserve Bank directors to reduce the rediscount rate of the bank yesterday was considered as the postponement of an inevitable change, in view of the world-wide recognition of the easier money situation. The call money renewal rate was unchanged at 4 per cent.

Selling pressure on the oils and industrials increased in the second hour, forcing back the prices of the active shares in some important groups. Motor stocks were deflected downward by the persistent selling of Studebaker, Willys-Overland, Hupp and Dodge. The 7 percent preferred stock of Dodge Brothers declined to the record low price of 71, while the common stock sold at 18, also a low record.

The railroad stocks were firm, with continued buying of the southwestern merger group, including Kansas City Southern, Katy and St. Louis Southwestern. Nickel Plate rails were strong but inactive, and investment rails firm. Professionals sold the whole market in the second hour and prices drifted unsteadily to the lower levels.

W. C. T. U. Worker Scores Flappers

(International News Service)
DOYLESTOWN, Pa., April 22.—The modern girl was severely criticized by Mrs. Indley Braden, W. C. T. U. worker, in an address to Buck county citizens here. Commenting on the marriages of today, Mrs. Braden blamed the bride for most of the marital troubles.

"The youthful bridegroom today gets a bobbed haired half empty cranium, two nude arms, a pair of silk-clad legs and an ill mannered girl filled with foolish speech when he marries one of the 'modern girls'," Mrs. Braden declared.

She charged American home life is facing a moral breakdown and the nation in general is in a similar condition to that of the Roman empire before its final collapse. Mrs. Braden laid most of the blame for present conditions to the scanty dress of the modern girl.

Finances Are Low; Sapiro Libel Suit May Be Postponed

Empty Treasury May Cause Ford Million-Dollar Libel Suit To Hang Over

MAKE APPEAL TO FEDERAL BUREAU

BY WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correrpondent

DETROIT, April 22.—An empty treasury probably will cause postponement of a new trial in the million dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit until after next July 1, it was learned today.

Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond, who halted the first trial because a woman talked too much, was said to have wired an appeal to the department of justice for funds to continue the case at once. If the department fails to heed his request, the second trial will have to be postponed until after July 1 when judicial appropriations for the new fiscal year become available. This dearth of money in the federal courts was caused by the failure of the last congress to enact the second deficiency appropriation bill.

Agents for the department of justice meanwhile continued a searching investigation into the bribery plot charges, levelled at Mrs. Cora Hoffman, a woman juror, by attorneys for Henry Ford. The federal agents were said to have again questioned William Hoffman, husband of the juror, and J. "Kid" Miller who was charged with making an offer to Mrs. Hoffman. They carefully guarded all developments in the investigation and will submit their report to Judge Raymond in person. It was Mrs. Hoffman's comment on these charges that brought about the mistrial.

To Set Date.

The court will convene again Saturday, April 30, to name a date for the second trial. At that time, counsel for Aaron Sapiro, who sued Ford for alleged libel, will ask for a new start at once.

"We will urge the earliest possible date for a new trial," said William Henry Gallagher, counsel for Sapiro.

"We will insist that a date be set in early May."

Gallagher told of having suggested to Ford's attorneys that each side contribute to a fund to pay the jurors, so that the trial might proceed immediately. He said Ford's attorneys had rejected the plan.

The auto king's attorneys, led by Senator James A. Reed, later explained that they believed such a plan illegal.

The shortage of funds however will halt the trial unless some special arrangement is made. It was learned incidentally that Judge Raymond has not yet been paid for his services this month and had to pay his own expenses. So far as the judiciary is concerned, the government is virtually "broke" and there appeared small likelihood of a new trial before July 1.

Denver Youngster Takes Up Preaching

(International News Service)

DENVER, April 22.—Leroy Mott, 13, heads a "gang" of schoolmates, but their activities are far different from the customary pranks of "little scorpions" clubsters. Leroy is a pulpit orator, whose dissertations on Scripture win him a weekly audience from his fellow pupils.

Gathering in Leroy's back yard, a score of youngsters, ranging from toddlers to members of the boy preacher's own class, sing familiar hymns, and then settle down to come under the sway of his golden words.

"Straight gospel" is the message of Leroy, who was converted at a revival meeting last autumn. He read a text from the words of the Master, and then expounds it in such clear and sparkling language that his youthful hearers are gripped by his religious fervor.

To close his brief services, Leroy calls upon his sister Roberta, nine, who plays the Doxology on her violin and then Leroy dismisses his congregation with a benediction.

Artist Brangwyn To Leave His Home To Aged Painters

(International News Service)

DITCHLING, Sussex, Eng., April 22.—Frank Brangwyn, world-famous painter has realized the treasured ambition of his dreams. He has been able to arrange that his beautiful country house, "The Jointure" will pass forever into the heritage of aged artists fallen on evil days.

"The Jointure," although not large, is one of the most beautiful houses in England. It goes back hundreds of years and, once a farmhouse, was part of the building given by King Henry VIII to Anne of Cleeves in lieu of a marriage portion. It consists of one delightful old-world apartment after another culminating in the great dining room, and the spacious and finely-galleried studio where Grangwyn paints his 50 feet panels.

The garden is a place of beauty. The walks, the lawns, the lichened flags and sun-bathed wall, the old cottage flowers and herbaceous borders in ordered abandon, have all been restored under the supervision of the great artists.

"I have no one to leave these things to," says Brangwyn, "and I thought I might leave my happiness to less fortunate fellows. The Council of the Artists's Benevolent Association will take charge, and I hope there will be a bit left for endowment when I die—although whatwith high taxation and goodness knows what other expenses a poor devil of an artist has to put up with nowadays."

Denver Kiddies Save Pennies For Building Of Home

(International News Service)

DENVER, April 22.—Pennies of Denver school children will be pooled to purchase the one-time Denver home of Eugene Field, beloved American children's poet and newspaperman, if the plans of Mrs. J. J. Brown, prominent Denver, New York and Newport society matron, are carried out.

Field, who worked for a time on the old Denver Tribune, occupied a modest home near Denver's civic center. Mrs. Brown has taken an option on the house, and is employing landscape gardeners and interior decorators to renovate the place.

She plans to hold entertainments in the public schools to finance the purchase of the home, and has secured the co-operation of Katherine Craig, state superintendent of public instruction.

Relics of Field's occupancy will be assembled and placed in the house May 1, when a "house-warming" will be held. If enough gifts are forthcoming, the house will be made a shrine for Field relics.

Jacksville

The meeting of the Jacksville W. C. T. U. for the month of May will be at the home of Mrs. Oran Pizor instead of the Glenn home as reported last week. Mrs. William Humphrey recently visited her son, Frank Humphrey and family at Latrobe, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Book and daughter Hulda of New Castle have concluded a visit at the home of Albert Miller.

Mrs. John Wimer and children Geraldine and Kenneth visited recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McClurg.

Mrs. Jane Studebaker, who spent the winter at Slippery Rock, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. S. C. Humphrey.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dickey and daughters Anna Belle and Jean of near Evans City spent Easter with Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Glenn.

Rev. and Mrs. S. Y. Sankey of West Liberty were callers at the W. Willis Alben home Wednesday.
